PRIMARIES ON SATURD AY

Nominations Made By Both Parties at The Different Wards.

WHO W'LL BE THE WINNING ONES?

Some Selections Meet With Disapproval—The Majority of the Nominations Were Well Received.

The primaries of both parties were held in the different wards on Saturday evening for the purpose of nominating ward and borough officers. Some of the selections were good; some could have been better. What the result will be is hard to conjecture. The selections are given below. Look them over, and then come to your own conclusions.

NORTH WARD.

REP.—School director, W. B. Rankin; council, H. C. Valentine, (3 years,) B. H. Shaffer (1 year); Miller; judge of election, H. Schreyer; inspector, W. H. Derstine; constable, William Garis.

The following nominations have been made for Borough officers:

REP. Treasurer, Charles F. Cook; Auditor, Chaney Hickland; Overseer Poor Isaac Miller.

DEM. Treasurer, J C Meyer, Auditor, Michael Gardner; Overseer Poor, Thomas Moore.

Students Reinstated.

Meadville, Jan. 26—The faculty of Allegheny College have reinstated the 24 young men who were temporarily suspended from attendance at that institution. The cause of the suspension was disorderly conduct on the college grounds on last Tuesday night. The young men would not sign the agreement or pay the fine imposed by the faculty on the grounds that they were innocent of the painting scrape, as the faculty discovered later on. This afternoon the faculty discovering their mistake, withdrew the fine imposed and reinstated the accused students by having them sign a mild agreement to better behavior hereafter.

Aroused Over a Toll Gate.

Lancaster. Jan. 26—Some months ago the Willow Street Turnpike Company erected a good sizedbuilding as a toll house at a new gate at Lamb Tavern, below this city. The citizens of the neighborhood became enraged about the new gate, and a few months ago the building was almost completely wrecked by unknown parties, who used dynamite. It was repaired and last night it was destroyed by an incendiary.

Threats have been made that the building will be destroyed as often as it is erected by the company.

A Missing Watchman Not Yet Found

Lancaster, Jan 26—The ruins of the Champion Blower and Forge company's works, burned last night, were searched today for the body of Williams Miller, the watchman who is supposed to have perished in the ruins. His hat and coat, which he generally hung up, were found, but the body was not recovered, although there is no doubt that he is in the ruins.

Another Incendiary Fire.

Lancaster, Jan 26—Another incendiary fire broke out this evening in the cellar of the furniture store of Keiper & Hertzler, on North Queen street. The stock was badly damaged by fire and water. The loss will reach $1,000; insured. The art store of Eichholtz & Bowman, adjoining, was also badly damaged.

LOAN ASSOCIATION INSOLVENT.

Many Hard-Working People at York Lose All Their Savings.

York, Jan. 26—The York financial world was all astir this morning, when it was announced that the York Mutual Building and Loan Association was in a state of insolvency. Many of York's poor, hard-working people will lose all of their savings.

The association was the oldest in this city, and numbered 2,500 shares. The crash is attributed to bad financial management and a too short series of its shares. When the first series ran out money was borrowed to pay the stockholders. The association has borrowed from banks and individuals $47,500. The money to be realized on the securities will not come near paying the indebtedness. A committee was appointed to examine the books, and they are unable to say what the actual loss will be. On the face of it, it looks as if every member who is an investor and not a borrower will lose every cent he has paid in. To this may be added the possibility of having to contribute toward the payment of the money borrowed from the banks and individuals.

George Fisher was its secretary and attorney, and he says that the association has been in a state of insolvency for five years. Mr. Fisher claims that the association has never lost any money by bad investments, but that it was impossible to "run out" an association with shares valued at $125 in seven years; that when the third series was run out the association had to borrow $10,000 to pay it off, and have carried part of that $10,000 ever since. That on each series paid out there was a loss of from $1,200 to $1,500, and now the crash has come. He further says that he realized this five years ago, and has been constantly lengthening the series ever since, and that if it had not been for the Mechanics' failure the York would have gradually gotten out of the hole.

"Touch not, Taste not, Handle Not."

The boy or young man who commences spending his money for tobacco or intoxicating drinks, as a rule, handicaps himself for life, and poverty and sorrow very frequently result.

It is very easy to get into the habit of using such poisons, but it is very difficult to get out, for they enslave mind and body, and not a few have been driven to despair by the lash of suffering which follows an attempt to regain freedom. Boys and young men, strive toward a noble manhood; do not become slaves; let intoxicating drinks and tobacco alone. Such poisons are not necessary, they will do you no good. You will enjoy much better health, and, as a rule, will live much longer without than with them. as ha been abundantly demonstrated by statistics.

Our railroads, our steamboats, and even our manufacturing establishments are beginning to find that they must have young men absolutely free from such habits for responsible positions, especially where life and property are at stake, and risked by the neglect, heedlessness, incapacity, or carelessness of employes. Boys and young men, if you ever think of asking for or seeking a position or employment, let the above poisons alone. What merchant, whether free from such habits himself or not, wants or would choose a clerk who was addicted to them, or whose breath smells of beer, wine, whiskey or tobacco? What man or woman would prefer a doctor whose breath smells of the above poisons, or what congregation would prefer a clergyman to go in and out setting suce an example, and thus encouraging the young to use such poisons?

Boys and young men, do not be led into slavery by the example of those already enslaved, but retain your "personal liberty." Save your money, and spend no portion of it except for some useful purpose.

A Neat Edition.

We have on our desk a souvenir copy of the Sanfrancisco, Cal., Chronicle. It is of the edition of Sunday, Dec 29 and comprises six sections or thirty pages of very interesting reading matter, illustrations, maps and etc. The Chronicle is most complete in even the smallest particular. The front page is made up of interesting commercial, production and financial statistics for 1895 relative to the state for that year and beautifully portrays the fact that San francisco is not only the third commercial city in the United States, but is also the Western Gateway of American commerce. Articles on life and habits of Californians are accompained with appropriate illustrations which makes the Chronicle indeed a souvenir to be highly prized.

—Forgery cases are trump this week in court. There are evidently one or two liars in the court.

ROBBING YALE COLLEGE

A Professor's Son Detected In His Serious Crimes.

MORE THAN $10,000 WORTH STOLEN

Denied the Charge at First But Confessed When His Guilt Was Exposed.

New Haven, Conn., Jan. 2—A sensation was created this afternoon by the announcement that articles valued at $10,000 had been stolen from the Peabody museum of Yale university, and that Albert H. Verrill, a son of Prof. Addison E. Verrill, professor of zoology and curator of the zoological collection of the university, had confessed that he was the thief. The thefts have extended over a period of two years, and the exact amount of loss will possibly never be known, as the young man has forgotten the number of pieces taken by him from the museum.

That valuable pottery, specimens of minerals and arrow heads were missing was known to those at the head of the museum. Yet no complaint was made until about a month ago. Then Professor Othniel C. Marsh, professor of paleontology and curator of the geological collection, and Prof. Addison Verrill, curator of the zoological collection, the two heads of the museum, laid the matter before the police, saying that they had been unable to solve the mystery.

The detectives were not long in deciding that the thief was someone who had keys to the collection, and they soon cast suspicion upon young Verrill. The latter was taken before his father and Professor Marsh, but he firmly denied all knowledge of the thefts. The same evening a detective searched the home of the young man and found a large quantity of valuable pottery there that at once fixed the robbery upon him. He confessed when confronted with this evidence, gave up all that he had in his home belonging to the museum and also furnished descriptions of the relics, and addresses of all the dealers to whom he remembered having disposed of them. This information made a long list and included many curio dealers in this country, yet it was incomplete, as he could not remember all of the transactions. Since then the police and the authorities of the museum have been busy in recovering the stolen property.

About $10,000 worth has already been returned, and as Prof. Marsh says that the museum will not lose a dollar in the end, it is presumed that Verrill's father has made recompense for the wrong doing of his son. Young Verrill is about 25, and a graduate of '93.

No arrest has been made and none is likely.

M'Kinley's Wedding.

Canton, Jan. 26.—Twenty-five years ago this evening occured in Canton what was up to that time the largest wedding ever held in the town. It was the marriage of William McKinley, Jr., then prosecuting attorney of Stark county, and Miss Ida Saxton, the daughter of James Saxton a banker of this city. The wedding was held in the Presbyterian Church, on West Tuscarora street, and was the first wedding that had been held in that edifice. The church had just been completed and had not as yet been occupied.

The anniversary of that wedding is being celebrated to-night by a big dinner. A steady stream of letters and telegrams has been received at the McKinley residence, all of a congratulatory nature.

St. Paul is Dumped.

Chicago, Jan. 28—Commander I. N. Walker said after he had been informed that the Western Passenger association would not grant the desired extension on the tickets: "Well, that simply lets St. Paul out of it. That is all there is to that. The entire matter will now be reopened and another city selected for the encampment."

When informed that the other roads of the Joint Traffic association had declared that they would not grant terms more favorable than those already made by the western lines, Commander Walker replied: "Then there will be no G. A. R. encampment this year. We must have thirty-day tickets, or we will not have any encampment."

Camden Gets Money for Railrods.

Parkersburg, W. Va., Jan. 28—Ex. Senator Camden has recorded with the American Banking and Trust company, of Baltimore, a deed of trust to secure an issue of $1,500,000 in 5 per cent, gold bonds. The money is to be employed in building short railroads between Fairmont and Clarksburg and in developing 13,000 acres of coal land in Harrison and adjoining counties.

TRIED TO LOSE HER BABE.

A Young Mother Attempts to Run Away From Her Child.

Pittsburg, Jan 26—Truby S. Dick, a dealer in real estate, living on Ridge avenue, Thirteenth ward, is in the county jail under three commitments, and his sister, Miss Helen Dick, of Johnstown is under custody in a private institution. Both are charged by Agent V F Fisher, of the Anti-Cruelty Society, with neglect and abandonment of Miss Dick's 2-weeks old daughter, and are being held for a hearing before Alderman Festus M King, of the Thirtieth ward, tomorrow afternoon. The prisoners are son and daughter of Rev. T. Dick, a United Presbyterian minister, of Johnstown.

Dick and his sister were arrested Friday evening by Patrolman Wm. Elmore. He observed them standing in the shadow on Cliff street, attentively eyeing the Roselia founding asylum. He thought they were acting suspiciously and he watched them. By and by the man, carrying a bundle ascended the steps of the asylum while the woman went down the street and waited.

The man laid the bundle in the vestibule, rang the bell and turned hastily away. The policeman stopped him. The bundle was found to contain an infant. Dick was detained at the asylum until the woman was caught. Both were taken to the Centre avenue police station and in the morning she was removed to Central station. They then confessed that the infant was the child of the young woman. It was borne in a maternity hospital in this city.

The police transferred the prisoners to the charge of Agent Fisher, who took them before Alderman King and had them committed. After her arrest Miss Dick said she would keep the child and it was taken with her to the station house. She was terribly distracted by her arrest, but said she loved the child and would try to take care of it. With it in her possession she was taken to an asylum, as she would not be received in the jail with the infant.

The Dicks formerly lived in Nineveh, and moved to Johnstown [illegible] years ago. They live [illegible] the great flood of [illegible] a younger brother, Cornell, was drowned. Miss Dick has in recent years been clerk in a store in Johnstown. She is said to have been well acquainted with a hotelkeeper and a lawyer of that city.

Among the fruit and flower novelties which 1896 brings us, we notice that the enterprising and reliable firm of James Vicks Sons, Rochester, N. Y., are already calling attention to those, which seem to have won great favor where known. They are the Double Sweet Pea, the only one in the world true to name, "Bride of Niagara," the "Early Leaser Tomato," the earliest of all the early tomato family and sure to become a great favorite, and the already famous blackberry, the "Rathbun."

From the praise and compliments given so abundantly to the "Bride of Niagara," this sweet pea must be more than charming and from the encomiums lavished on both the new tomato and this new blackberry, it is pretty certain no garden desiring to have the first and best of everything, can be without these three new comers.

By the way, readers, are any of you so far behind the times as not to know "Vick's Floral Guide?" If any of you have never seen it, send 10 cents to this firm at Rochester, N. Y., and get a copy. You can deduct this from the first order for seeds and the pleasure and information their Guide will give you will certainly induce you to keep up the acquaintance.

Meeting of Board of Pardons.

Harrisburg, Jan. 28—A regular meeting of the board of pardons will be held tomorrow. The are seventeen cases on the list for argument.

REGULAR COURT IN SESSION

Many Interesting Cases To Be Tried This Week.

SOME OF THEM ARE VERY SPICY

While Others are Very Monotonous—Many Jurors and Witnesses in Town—S. E. Troy Foreman of the Grand Jury.

The regular session of January court commenced in the Court House on Monday morning with Judges Love and Faulkner on the bench. The list of Grand Jurors was called and twenty-one members responded to their names. They then retired to the Grand Jury room to pass upon the different bills of indictment which will be presented to them. S. E. Troy of Rush township, was chosen foreman. The constables of the different boroughs and townships then made their quarterly returns. Mortimer O'Donoughoe, a spring township juror was excused. W R Essington and G W Stover were then discharged from the custody of the Sheriff under the insolvent act. The balance of the morning session was taken up in the presenting of petitions and motions by the different members of the bar. Court adourned until 2 o'clock.

MONDAY AFTERNOON.

The first case to come before the court was that of the com. vs Jacob Mayes, charged with malicious mischief. G H Leyman appeared as prosecutor. A verdict of not guilty, and the costs imposed upon the prosecutor G H Leyman, was rendered.

The next case was that of the com. vs William Quick, charged with assault and battery. The charge was preferred by E E Erhard. The defendant plead guilty after the evidence was all in. He was sentenced to pay the costs of prosecution, $25 fine and undergo imprisonment in the county jail for 20 days. Court adjourned at 4.30 until Tuesday morning.

TUESDAY MORNING.

Court came to order at precisely 9 o'clock and the case of the com. vs Walter Wrye was called. The defendant was charged with assault and battery, Mrs. Mary Bean appeared as prosecutrix. The defendant, who is a school teacher at the Hannah school, Taylor township, was accused of cruelly beating Victor Bean, the 13 year old son of the prosecutrix on Jan. 8th. A verdict of not guilty was brought in. The cost were divided, two-thirds being placed on the school Dirctors of Taylor Township and one-third on the prosecutrix.

Court then adjourned until Tuesday af-

TUESDAY AFTERNOON.

Court convened at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon and the case of com. vs. J. S Bennett charged with marital infidelity was called. After the prosecution had presented its case the defendant plead guilty.

The next case was that of the com. vs. J. S. Bennett, charged with forgery. Prosecutor Adam Moyer. The forgery charged consisted in writing his name and that of his wife over the assumed names under which they were marrried on the marriage certificate. A verdict of not guilty and prosecutor to pay the costs was rendered.

The com. vs. C M Houser was then brought up, Robert Confer appeared as prosecutor. The defendant was charged with false pretense in signing his wife's name to an article of agreement without her authority, he assuming that he had that authority. The court instructed the jury to render a verdict of not guilty and the only question was the matter of placing the costs.

A case of larceny was that of the com. vs. John Corrigan. S. F. Foster was the prosecutor. The defendant was charged with the larceny of a buffalo robe valued at $35 from Foster. Both prosecutor and defendant are liverymen at State College.

The jury in the Carrigan larceny case returned a verdict of not guilty.

Another forgery case was that of the com. vs. J P Sherlock. Prosecutor Henry Whitmer. The defendant was accused of forging and passing several chekcks on Philipsburg merchants. Several witnesses gave some damaging testimony against Sherlock. Henry Whitmer swore that the checks produced were not signed by him. Others testified as to Whitmer's handwriting and said the signature on the checks was not that of Mr. Whitmer. John P Harris, cashier of the First National Bank of this place, said that the signature on the checks was not even an imitation of Mr. Whitmer's writing.

Sherlock flatly denied that he had signed Mr. Whitmer's name to the checks and swore that Mr. Witmer himself signed them. The jury has been out all day and up the present time are still hanging fire.

The com. vs. John Bowers charged, larceny was called. The defendant was accused of robbing the Julian station on Oct. '95, of something like $40. The evidence so far has been purely circumstantial but very damaging. What the outcome will be is at this writing is hard to tell.

—Mrs. John Evans died ot her residence near Eagle Foundry, Huntingdon county, on Friday, after an illness of a year or more. She was aged about 70 years, and was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church, and highly respected by all who knew her. She is survived by her husband and a large family of grown up children.

Keep This In Mind.

Every merchant, and in fact everybody, in Bellefonte should pay particular attention to their shipping and receiving of shipments. When making a shipment see that it is shipped over the Central and Reading lines and you will make no mistake. When ordering goods see that you put in a postscript ordering the shippers to bill your goods only over the Reading and Central lines. A moment's consideration will clearly demonstrate to you how very important this is to not only Bellefonte but to yourself as well. It means that you are a promoter of the interests of your own city. It means that you have the welfare of your family at heart. Unless you ship over the Central and Reading lines you certainly are not a supporter of your own city; and any merchant who is not a supporter of his own city should be ashamed to even attempt to do business with Bellefonte people. The Central opened up life for our citizens. It is the Central alone that affords accommodations to Bellefonte. Only a short time ago when a delegation of the leading democratic citizens of this city wanted to attend the State Convention at Williamsport, it was the Central that gave them a reasonable rate and even ran a special return train so the people could get home the same day. It is no more than right that the citizens of this city should show their appreciation of these things by giving that road and the Reading their entire support. Merchants, think this matter over. The Central and Reading are getting new supporters every day. They are now getting shippers who up until about a month ago did all their business [illegible] why not join this daily increasing throng of dutiful citizens. Ship entirely over the Central and Reading, and do an act of which you can justly be proud. Let it be understood once for all that anybody or any corporation no matter what kind, that is against Bellefonte shall not receive any of your support and until you do this you are not worthy to bear the name "citizen."

Robbers Visit Four Places.

Pottstown, Jan. 26—Robbers made wholesale raids in Pottstown business places early this morning. They forced open the front door of John S. Weand's grocery store, located in one of the most prominent business sections of town, but a burglar alarm awakened Mr. Weand and the robbers fled. At the Colonnade Hotel, bottles of whisky, wine and gin, many boxes of cigars and all the money in the drawer were taken.

A half square away from the hotel is the office of Swift Brothers, the Chicago beef firm, and there the cash drawer was broken open, but nothing was secured. At the works of the Light Cycle Company a lot of clothing, belonging to the workmen, and a shotgun were taken by the thieves. The meat store of Nathan Herzstein was also visited and robbed of a quantity of chickens and meat.

—David Goodman, an aged citizen of Waterstreet, Huntingdon county, died at his home Tuesday morning a 3 o'clock, after an illness of about a week, from the effects of blood poisoning, caused by running a splinter in his finger. Deceased was born in Henderson township, Huntingdon county, over 70 years ago, and lived there until he was married. He removed to Morris township, and there followed the occupation of millwright and farmer.

PUSHING THE BEECH CREEK.

An Advance Into Somerset County—Efforts to Enter Johnstown.

Johnstown, Pa., Jan. 23.—There are three corps of the Beech Creek railroad engineers at work in Cambria county, and it is said they are surveying a route from Patton to Somerset county. One corps is located at Summer Hill and they are running a line along the south side of the Conemaugh river above the line of the old Portage, which is owned by the Pennsylvania Railroad. The new line crosses the Pennsylvania Railroad company's tracks at the big cut about one half mile east of Summer Hill and will continue southwestward on its course to Somerset county. It may be that the new line will strike South Fork, and it is certain that efforts are being made to gain an entrance to Johnstown.

They Lived Alone.

Philadelphia, Jan. 23.—Ambrose West aged 78 years, a well known manufacturer of hosiery in Germantown, and his wife were found dead at their home this morning. They had been asphyxiated during the night by illuminating gas, which escaped from the bed room jet. The key on the burner had not been fully turned and enough of the deadly vapor passed into the apartment to kill both occupants, The couple lived alone, It was the custom of Mr. West to appear at his mill nearly every morning, and when he did not put in an appearance to-day the foreman went to the residence, which is but a short distance from the plant, to learn the cause of absence. Receiving no response to repeated knocks the man burst open the rear door. He at once detected an odor of gas, and upon going to the second floor the fumes were so strong that he was partially overcome. Upon opening the door of the bed room of Mr. and Mrs. West he found the occupants dead in bed. They had apparently been dead for several hours. An investigation shows the occurrence to have been altogether accidental.

A Live Board of Trade.

During the past year the Condersport board of trade says the Potter Democrat, have secured for that town a hub and veneering factory that employ 100 hands, a cigar factory employing eight hands, a furniture factory employing twelve hands, a close pin factory that will have fifty employes, basket factory that will employ 100 and by annexation has added to the borough about 1,200 more inhabitants. The number of new residents outside of the annexed district will number nearly five hundred, and as soon as all the plants that have been secured start operating the population will be nearly 4,000.

Fits Cured

From U.S. Journal of Medicine

Prof. W. H. Peeke, who makes a specialty of Epilepsy, has without doubt treated and cured more cases than any living Physician; his success is astonishing. We have heard of cases of 20 years' standing cured by him. He publishes a valuable work on this disease, which he sends with a large bottle of his absolute cure, free to any sufferers who may send their P. O. and Express address. We advise any one wishing a cure to address Prof. W. H. PEEKE, F. D., 4 Cedar St., New York

Charles Dana Gibson showed his art instinct almost in his babyhood. When he was eight years of age he amused himself by cutting silhouettes from paper with scissors. These were so spirited that they astonished his friends and even attracted the attention of art critics. In the February St. Nicholas Christine Terhune Herrick tells of Mr. Gibson's boyish work, and there are reproductions of many of his remarkable paper figures.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE

IN 1896.

Bristles, a new novel by William Black written with all the author's well known charm of manner, will begin in the December number, 1895, and continue until May. A new novel by George du Maurier, entitled "The Martian," will also begin during the year. It is not too much to say that no novel has been awaited with such great expectation as the successor to Trilby. The Personal Recollection of Joan of Arc, will continue and will relate the story of the failure and martyrdom of the Maid of Orleans. Other important fiction of the year will be a novelette by Mark Twain, under the title of "Tom Sawyer, Detective;" a humorous three part tale called "Two Mormons from Muddlety," by Langdon Elwyn Mitchell; and short stories by Octave Thanet, Richard Harding Davis, Mary E. Wilkins, Julian Ralph, Brander Matthews, Owen Wister and other well known writers.

Prof. Woodrow Wilson will contribute six papers on George Washington and his times, with illustrations by Howard Pyle. Poultney Bigelow's history of the "German Struggle for Liberty," illustrated by R. Caton Woodville, will be continued through the winter. Two papers on St. Clair's defeat and Mad Anthony Wayne's victory, by Theodore Roosevelt with graphic illustrations will be printed during the year.

A noteworthy feature of the Magazine during 1896 will be a series of Articles by Casper W. Whitney, describing his trip of 2000 miles on snow shoes and with dog sledge trains into the unexplored barren grounds of British North America in pursuit of wood-bison and musk-oxen. Mr. Whitney's series will have the added interest of being illustrated from photographs taken by himself.

The volumns of the Magazine begin with the numbers of June and December of each year. When no time is mentioned, subscriptions will begin with the number current at the time of receipt of order.

Remittances should be made by postoffice money order or draft, to avoid chance of loss

COLD IN HEAD

Unlimited Gall.

It is generally the case that where a robbery is committed the perpetrators are punished. But in all instances there are a few who escape. Just so is the case where the Bellefonte citizens and merchants have been robbed by the Pennsylvania Railroad for thirty years. High and unjust freight rates tells the whole story. The railroad company might just as well have charged a low freight rate and then came up to the merchants money drawers and taken out what they pleased. They got the same amount anyway. What difference does it make how they got it. It can readily be understood why the Pennsylvania Railroad treated the people of Bellefonte in this manner for thirty years. Where railroad competition exists there can be found reasonable freight rates. It is an acknowledged fact that the Pennsylvania charges freight rates as she pleases as long as she is not compelled to lower them by competing lines. Every town that secures railroad competition means so much more added on the freight rates to a town that is so unfortunate as to have only one railroad running into it, especially if that railroad is the Pennsylvania—and that is what Bellefonte had to bear for more than thirty years. It was simply a case between the Pennsylvania Railroad and the Bellefonte merchants where the former said "Give me all your profits and you can have the rest." If this isn't unlimited gall, then we would like to know what is? The worst part of it was that everybody suffered the outrages of the Pennsylvania either directly or indirectly. Merchants and manufacturers mostly were the ones who suffered directly while the people in general were the ones who indirectly were compelled to bear the burden of monopoly. Every time the freight rates went up it meant another starving creature in this city. The merchant had to charge prices according to what his goods cost him. The result was that many articles were thus thrown beyond been able to have bought them had the price not been so high. What then followed? The merchants could not succeed unless they sold goods and consequently they were compelled to go out of business —DRIVEN OUT BY THE PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD is stating the case accurately and in the fewest words. Is this not gall? It is worse than gall; it is murder. Business firms wrecked by an unscrupulous railroad company. And yet they have the cheek to ask you to still do business with them. Any merchant who goes back on the Central—the uplifter of Bellefonte should bow his head in shame. Always keep in mind this one point: IT IS THE CENTRAL THAT HAS BELLEFONTE'S WELFARE AT HEART and not the Pennsylvania; and every pound a merchant of this city ships over the latter road is another nail driven into Bellefonte's coffin. If you want to attend your own funeral, ship over the Pennsylvania. If you want to bring success to yourself and prosperity to the whole city then patronize the Central exclusively.

A cry Common Charge.

Kane, Jan 24—Deputy United States Marshall W L Scott Thompson, of rie, came here yesterday drove to Kushequa, where he arrested Benjamin Eckenbrod, charged with sending obscene matter through the United States mails. The prisoner, an illiterate looking man, was brought here and taken to Warren for a hearing before a United States commissioner.

Mining Village Burned.

Pittsburg, Jan. 24—A Greensburg special says the mining village of Van Meter, in Rostrover township, was almost destroyed by fire last evening. Twelve houses belonging to the Osborne Saeger Coal company were consumed and twenty families rendered homeless. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Good for Potter County.

Port Allegheny, Jan 24—The announcement is made that coal has been found at Galeton, Potter county. An experienced prospector in the employ of the Erie Railroad company has been at work there for several months, with the result that a good vein has been discovered.

Tried Suicide to End Money Troubles

Washington, Jan 24—An almost successful attempt to suicide occurred here today Mrs. Silas Price shot herself in the breast and is in a precarious condition. She brooded over financial trouble until driven to try suicide.

SURVIVED HIS BRAIN.

John Bly Retained His Faculties After the Brain Was Gone.

Williamsport, Jan. 23—Dr. Koser of this city has made a remarkable discovery, which will be a theme for discussion among medical men throughout the country. His knife has revealed a medical wonder, in which a man had unimpaired faculties without a brain. At the request of a number of prominent physicians of Philadelphia Dr. Koser Sunday evening held a post mortem examination of the remains of John Bly of Watsontown, who died Friday night.

Bly, who was 20 years of age, for a long time suffered with a tumor, which grew into the very base of the brain and occasioned his death. The growth had a visible effect upon his brain and the case became a curiosity to the medical profession. The tumor was imbedded too deeply into the brain tissue to admit of an operation. It was found that the tumor was nearly as large as a billiard ball. It was so located as to demoralize the nerves of the sight center, and as a consequence young Bly was blind for over three years.

The most singular fact developed was that the entire brain had been hollowed out by the action of the tumor. The cavity was at least five inches in length, and was filled with pus. All that was left of the brain was a thin shell, composed of the tougher tissues where the brain matter gathers into nerves, which were less susceptible to the process of decay. When an incision was made in the shell the whole mass collapsed.

The circumstances which made the case almost unprecedented in the annals of medical science was the manner in which the patient retained his rationality and faculties under the circumstances. He had the sences of touch taste, hearing and smell, had very tolerable control of his locomoter muscles, could talk, and in fact was comparatively discommoded in no other way than by the loss of vision. His retention of memory was remarkable. He was able to memorize pomes up to within two weeks of his death.

A Direct Descendant of Pocahontas.

Reading, Jan. 22—A telegram was received here this evening by A. K. Stauffer announcing the death at Chamberland, Md., of his sister-in-law, Virginia R Keim Mulholland, wife of James A Mulholland, president of the Georges Creek and Cumberland Railroad. Mrs. Mulholland was born in this city in May, 1846 and was descended from the old Keith family of Berks, which received patents from the government of William Penn in 1709 for land in Oley township. On her mother's side she was descended from the Tuckahoe branche of the famous Randolph family of Virginia and was of the tenth generation [illegible] princess Pocahontas. She is survived by a husband and eleven children.

Stocked the Streams.

During the year 1895 the Pennsylvania Fish Protective association put in the streams throughout the state 3,250,000 besides 35,000,000 white fish, 750,000 brown California rainbow and hybrid trout, 35,000 black bass, 20,000 white and calico bass and 30,000 Lake Erie sun fish were transported into the waters of the state. Not a bad showing. Next spring they expect to have 9,000,000 brook trout alone.

A Leopard Eats Oysters.

At Kane on Monday a leopard on a freight train broke from its cage and cleared the car of itskeepers. The leapard then devoured a quantity of oysters that were on the train and so overted itself that it became sick and was easily captured when the train arrived at Erie. The animal was enroute to Geneva, Ohio, for Main's circus.—Philsburg Journal.

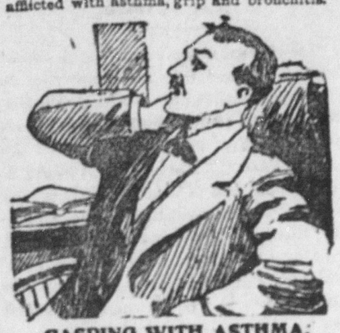
—Here is another case of the careless handling of firearms. Thursday evening La Rue Pott, aged 8 years, of Williamsport, was accidentally shot in the neck by a bullet from a revolver in the hands of a playmate named Ed. Lewis. The revolver was a 32-calibre of the Hopkins & Allen make. It was a double-acting weapon and young Lewis, seeing it was not cocked thought no harm would result if he pulled the trigger. The victim had a close call, but will recover.

Colds, Croup, Catarrh, Consumption

CHOKING WITH CROUP.
"Save my child!"

Dr. Acker's English Remedy is unsurpassed as a cure for croup and whooping cough. It quickly removes the poisonous phlegm, membrane and inflammation so dangerous in these dreaded complaints.

It puts a stop to the wheezing, hoarseness, soreness, difficult breathing and suffocating sensations endured by those afflicted with asthma, grip and bronchitis.



GASPING WITH ASTHMA.
"Why can't I breathe?"

"It Started with a Cold."

So said one of the greatest of doctors, and he was right.

All throat and lung diseases begin with a cold. There is only one way to cure them. Something must be taken to quickly remove the soreness, and inflammation. For years the greatest scientists and physicians sought for some discovery and at last it was found in the form of

DOCTOR Acker's ENGLISH Remedy

Dr. Acker's English Remedy prevents the dangerous after-effects of a deep-seated cold. It checks tonsilitis, croup, influenza, diphtheria, and pneumonia. It assists nature, is very agreeable to the palate, and can readily be taken by children. It is pure.

"If men and women would all use Dr. Acker's English Remedy promptly and in time, there would be an end to coughs, pneumonia, and consumption."

DR. ABERCROMBIE.

This great Remedy can be procured of all reliable druggists, or of Acker Medicine Co., 16 and 18 Chambers St., New York.

TORTURED WITH CATARRH.
"A life of misery."

The worst cases of chronic catarrh have been and can be cured by Dr. Acker's English Remedy. It effectually cures sore throats and restores the senses of taste and smell. It stops hawking and sneezing.

If taken in time it will cure consumption. Bear in mind that you may have consumption and yet "you do not know it." Let us hope this may be a warning.

WASTING CONSUMPTION.
"It started with a cold."

Shall Women Propose.

The New York Herald recently invited its readers to send in answers to the question: "How far shall women go during 1896 to encourage man to propose marriage?" Such of the answers as have been printed vary greatly. A few are unique. Here is one of the best:

"I went 29 miles from the one man in this world whom I desired to offer me a proposal of marriage. I firmly believed absence would make his heart grow fonder.' There were times when I found the greatest amusement in teasing the object of my affection. I gratified this inclination at this time by sending him a large sunflower enclosed in a neat box. I had it registered to insure its safety in the mail. The prompt acknowledgement read as follows

"'As the sunflower ever turns toward the sun, so my heart turns to thee. I have interpreted the beautiful language of the flower to be a reflection of your love for me. Become my wife and consent to preside over my home, and our garden shall [illegible] blocks of sunflowers.'

"I went home on the fast express and decided that the sunflower was the 'mascot' of my life."

Pope Leo lives on what the Americans would call the third floor of the Vatican Marion Crawford, writing of "Pope Leo XIII, and his Household" in the February Century, says: "To the Pope's bedroom only his private valet and his secretaries have access. It is of small dimensions, and contains only a bed, in an alcove adorned with graceful marble columns, a writing table, an arm-chair and kneeling stool, and one wardrobe."

President McKnight Resigns.

Gettysburg, Pa., Jan. 23.—Rev. H. W. McKnight, president of Pennsylvania (Gettysburg) college, has tendered his resignation to take effect in June. The action is the result of a discussion in the faculty and church. The board of trustees requested him to withdraw his resignation but he declined.

Tired of Living.

Pittsburg, Jan. 23—John Yurechak, a prisoner at the western penitentiary, committed suicide to-day by hanging himself in his cell with a towel. He was 24 years old, single, a native of Austo-Hungary and was serving a two year's sentence for felonious assault and battery.

ONE KILLED; MANY INJURED

Fatal Dynamite Explosion at Lewistown on Wednesday.

Lewistown, Pa., Jan. 22—A careless workman, a fire, a lot of dynamite and powder, were the means that led to one man losing his life and eleven others being fatally and seriously injured. The explosion took place at 11.30 a. m. to-day at the grading at Bixler's water station on the Pennsylvenia railroad, three miles and a half east of this place.

The dead man is:
Lawrence Moist, of Mattawana.

The injured are:
H. Wade, colored, fatally.
Howard F. Smith, seriously.
Thomas Ragen, seriously.
Two Italians, seriously.
Six Italians, slightly.

Just how the explosion occurred will probably never be known positively, as Moist, the man in charge of the explosives, is dead. The most correct surmise and statement of the facts are to the effect that he had some powder and dynamite thawing at the fire, and had them too close, when the heat fired them and they exploded with the above results. The force of the explosion was terrific, the noise being heard in town.

Moist was badly burned and cut and had one leg blown off between the knee and ankle, and was otherwise cut up. He only lived about an hour after the accident.

Wade, the colored man, had his arm broken and both legs torn open between the thigh and knee. It is thought he cannot survive.

Smith is cut on the face, hip, shoulder and body and is seriously injured.

Ragan has several bad cuts and flesh wounds on his limbs and body.

Two of the Italians are badly injured, being cut in almost every portion of the body that was exposed to the explosion.

The other six have cuts and bruises that are not serious, if properly cared for.

Smith, the injured man, is about the only one from whom information could be secured. His story is that while working he felt himself struck on the back by something and heard the explosion. He started to run but before he could get away was struck several times more. After he got out of the way he saw one of the Italians coming across the railroad with the blood flowing down his face, and saw the others laying around in the vicinity of the explosion.

Thomas M. Wallace, time-keeper for the contractor, had the men brought to the Lewistown Junction, where Drs. Harshbarger, Clarkson, Sweigert, Walker and Parcels rendered such surgical aid as was possible in a short time. Arrangements were made as quickly as it could be done to have the men sent to the hospitals at Harrisburg and Altoona. They were placed on the trains shortly after 1 o'clock and transferred to those institutions.

Moist will be shipped to his home for interment.

At 5 o'clock this evening a rumor was on the streets that Wade and the two seriously injured Italians had died just before reaching Harrisburg, but it could not be verified or disputed.

An explosion almost similar had taken place about a week before, from the same cause, but it failed to warn Moist.

He Wanted Loveine.

A young man of decidedly rural appearance entered an Eleventh avenue pharmacy yesterday and leaned nervously against the counter. The prescription clerk stepped up briskly and inquired what he wanted.

"I don't know whether you have it or not," the prospective customer said, doubtfully, gazing at the point where his trousers entered his boot tops

"Oh, yes, we have it," remarked the clerk, glibly. "We handle everything on the market."

"Do you? I'm so glad." A ray of hope brightened his sunburned countenance. "I just thought I would stop in and see if you could—if I could, I mean—that is if a fellow could buy a bottle of loveine."

The prescription clerk looked dazed but the customer went on confidentially: "I don't mind telling you how the case stands. You see I'm kind o' stuck on a girl up our way, but she don't seem to return my affections. I heard as how you sold nervine, and all them things, an' I just thought you keep loveine too. How much is she a bottle."

"It's a mighty dangerous thing, loveine is," the clerk replied, winking hard at the soda fountain to hide his agitation.

"We're not allowed to sell it except on prescriptions."

"Gee whizz! Well, so long!" and the young man with the aching heart departed sadly, leaving the door open in his abstraction.—Altoona Tribune.

Tramps at Ridgway.

Stragglers of bands of "Knights of the Road" are again infesting the outskirts of this city, even with the horrors of the ball and chain act staring them in the face. Quite recently the writer observed a band of seven of these lazy vagabonds seated along the tracks of the B. R. & P. R. R. company. Some of them were reading greasy old newspapers which at some time had doubtless served as the wrappers of "hand-outs," others enjoyed themselves smoking dirty old clay pipes, while as a whole, the gang seemed to imagine that it was seated in cozy smoking and reading rooms. One of the members had been dispatched to procure food for their midday meal, the remains of which yet lay scattered on the ground, and from which they expected to secure sufficient to serve them for supper. If the general public was fully acquainted with the habits of these rogues it is doubtful if they would fare so well hereafter.—Elk Democrat.

May Annul Their Charter.

Chester, Jan. 22.

For the past eight months the people of this city have been paying for water that could not be used even for bathing purposes with any degree of satisfaction. For the past two weeks it has had an inky hue and a bad smell. It has become so bad that City Council has appointed a committee from Select and Common Council to act with the Board of Health, City Solicitor and the Mayor, to devise a remedy.

Mayor Hinkson, on whose recommendation the action was taken, recommends that Council annul the contract between the New Chester Water Company, and enter into a contract with the Springfield Water Company, or some other corporation who will furnish pure water. Several attorneys have refused to pay their water rent. Milkmen have established water routes, and are furnishing water to private houses at so much per gallon.

Last Fall's Official Vote.

Harrisburg, Jan. 21—The commission created by the legislature to compute the vote cast last Nov. for state treasurer, met in the senate chamber at noon to day Judge Simonton presiding. The computation showed the following vote cast:

Haywood, republican, 456,745; Meyers democrat, 282,481; Berry, prohibitionist 20,779; Dawson, people's, 7,802; Anton, social labor, 1,329. A committee informed Mr. Haywood of his election and his commission will be issued at once.

Think He Was Killed.

Lancaster, Jan. 24.—The relatives of John Frankford, the noted horse thief and jail-breaker, are not satisfied with the statement of the officials of the Eastern Penitentiary as to the causes of his death, and purpose having an investigation made.

It was officially announced that he died from the effect of an operation, but his relatives think that the true cause is an ugly-looking bruise as big as a silver quarter just above the left eye, which looks as if it had been inflicted by some kind of a blunt instrument.

Beside the opening made in the stomach to perform the operation, Frankford's head had been cut off on a line with the top of his ears. This has greatly incensed his relatives, who are outspoken in their belief that the great criminal met with a violent death.

DRINKING WATER.

Impure Drinking Water and its Many Evils—Disease Germs in Water.

Upon the purity of our drinking water depends our health. If the water we drink is foul or poisoned, disease is sure to result. Numerous epidemics of Typhoid Fever and Diphtheria have been traced directly to poisoned water.

The blood is the drinking water of the body. Every organ and tissue, every muscle and nerve is bathed in it and drinks from it.

If the blood is full of poisons and impurities, every organ in the body is poisoned and diseased by it.

Our blood is being constantly poisoned by the results of wearing out and breaking down of our organs and muscles. It is also being constantly clogged by the ashes of digestion.

It is the duty of the kidneys to filter these poisons out of the blood. They work without a moment's rest, day and night to do this. When they get sick, weak or sluggish, they fail to do it.

Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills heal, strengthen, and increase the natural power of the Kidneys. Asparagus is a wonderful medicine for the kidneys It is found in its best and most concentrated form in Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills.

REMARKABLE FAITH CURE

At Least Such Are the Surface Indications in a Queer Case.

Wilkesbarre, Jan 24—An interesting and remarkable story of a faith cure, which is said to be reliable, comes from West Pittston today. Wednesday evening Revs. W F McArthur and James Scoville, of Scranton, and M T Tulfort, of Elmira, began conducting services at West Pittston. They came from that place from Scranton, where they had been stationed for several weeks, and while there a young man named Charles Miller, son of the late Rev. E Miller, of Scranton became interested in the faith cure ministers' preaching. They set forth a doctrine that everybody suffering from any corporal diseases or affliction can be cured if their faith in God be strong enough, and if they pray to him with sufficient fervency and sincerity.

Young Miller, who for years, had absolutely no use of his left arm, it being paralyzed several years ago, became such a deep believer in the faith cure that he followed the trio of ministers to West Pittston, and yesterday he requested them to pray for him that it might be God's will to restore his arm to its former strength and usefulness. They told him they would immediately do so, and instructed Miller to do likewise. This was in the afternoon. When Miller went home for supper last night he could move the fingers of his left hand—a feat which, for a number of years he was unable to accomplish. When he again went to the minister's after supper and shook hands with them he was able to lift his left hand and the minister's right when clasped. The arm steadily grew more useful and vigorous and before this morning he was able to swing it around his head. The arm is now as sound and useful as before Miller was stricken with paralysis. The cure is a complete and marvelous one, and was today corroborated by Miller himself and many friends who had known of his affliction.

Miller says that it is his certain belief that the paralysis which struck him down was a visitation from the Lord as a punishment for his not entering the ministery and his lack of faith. He now intends to enter the ministery at once and dedicate the remainder of his life to preaching the word of God and enlightening his fellow beings.

Governor Hastings Home.

Harrisburg, Jan. 24.—Governor Hastings and party arrived in Harrisburg this morning from their trip to the south and southwest, all in most excellent health. The governor seems robust and has undoubtedly recovered his vigor. Attorney General McCormick left the party at Tyrone and went to Williamsport.

The governor did not go to the executive department because it is all torn up by reason of improvements that are being made there. He will not be in the department before Monday. He found a number of important matters to claim his attention, and with his private secretary at once began business.

Must Close at 10.30 p. m.

Gettysburg, Jan 24—In the License Court today Judge Swope announced that an old rule of court, for many years in obeyance, would be enforced again, and ordered that henceforth all bars must be closed at 10.30 p. m. The local hotel proprietors are much annoyed and hold that, by reason of the large transient business of Gettysburg, this rule is not equitable to them nor to the excursionists and battlefield visitors.

comes to stay
There is more than one food which will cause the body to increase in weight. A free supply of sugar will do this; so will the starchy foods; cream, and some other fats. But to become fleshy, and yet remain in poor health, is not what you want. Cod-liver oil increases the weight because it is a fat-producing food. But it does far more than this. It alters, or changes, the processes of nutrition, restoring the normal functions of the various organs and tissues.
Scott's Emulsion
of Cod-liver Oil with hypophosphites, is pure cod liver in a digested condition. So that when a person gains in weight from taking Scott's Emulsion, it is because of two things: First, the oil has acted as a fat-producing food; and, second, it has restored to the body a healthy condition. Such an improvement is permanent; it comes to stay.

A Headache Plaster.

Here is a headache plaster given by the Cincinnati Enquirer: "When the beating, thumping sensation begins in the head take equal quantities of pure cayenne pepper and flour; mix them up with water to form a smooth paste thick enough to spread like a salve. Put this upon a piece of soft paper and apply it to the back of the neck just below the hair. In warm weather it is best to wash the neck with a cloth wet with soap and water, as the oily perspiration may interfere with the action of the plaster. One great advantage of cayenne pepper plaster over mustard is that while the latter frequently blisters the former never does so, no matter how strong itis applied. In the use of mustard, if the skin is broken all treatment must cease until it heals; but with pepper when the plaster loses its effect another may be applied without unpleasant con sequences.

Chip From the Old Block.

Elisha K. Kane, a son of the famous commander of the original Bucktails, is very indignant with the rest of the American citizens, at the massacre of the Armenians by the Turks. From his quiet home at Kushequa, McKean county, he has telegraphed Hon. C. W. Stone a Washington as follows: "Insist on troops going at once to Turkey. Will raise volunteers if permitted." This sounds like the message emanatiug from his distinguished father thirty-five years ago.—Williamsport Daily News.

No Use Outside of a Printing Office

Young man do not swear. There is no occasion for it outside of a printing office where it is quite useful when the paper is behind time. It also comes in handy in proof reading, and is indespensable when the ink works badly or the press is to be run by hand. It has been known to entirely remove that tired feeling of the editor when he glances over the mistakes after the paper is mailed. Outside of a printing office it is a very foolish and unbecoming misuse of the language.—Grand Island ndependent.

EUROPEAN LETTER.

(From our Special Correspondent.)

NAPLES, ITALY, JAN. 10, 1896.

We have returned soaked and disappointed from Vesuvius. Our clothes and our tempers have been ruined; Cook the excursion fiend has fallen in our estimation and Vesuvius is simply beneath our notice. We went to the crator in a rain that was sufficient to have put out the volcano. We have jolted miles in a springless wagon, we have ridden springless donkeys, waded in ashes to our ankles, and all this is in the interest of pleasure.

We left Naples about nine o'clock in the morning under the supervision of Cook and in one of Cook's wagons. The morning was not altogether promising but "hope springs eternal" and we thought the day would probably be clear.—Naples was just beginning to really wake up for the day, for the dolce far nient of the people begins by lying in bed in the morning. At last we reached the open country and while the clouds gathered overhead our spirits were kept up by a band of strolling musicians who walked along by the carriage and sang "Santa Lucia" and "Bell" in honor of our nationality and seeming disappointed when we failed to look appreciative. We stopped at a little mountain inn where our honest driver who probably shared profits with the proprieto-, told us we could get the best wine in all Italy. At the next stop we left the carriage and mounted donkeys to cross the lava fields. At this moment nature's feeling overcame her and as if in anticipation of the fate that awaited us began to weep. Everyone commented gleefully on the fact and we mounted the diabolical beasts, as premier Olliver said when the French started to Berlin with "light hearts." When we reached that spot on our return we had seen Vesuvius but a strange silence had fallen on all the party, and those who found voices at all lifted it in declaring that henceforth their mission would be to dissuade others from the ascent of the vol cano. An incompatibility had sprung up between all the members of the company and eyes that looked love at the beginning of the trip were now singularly inexpressive behind straightened bangs, and under dripping hats.

Probably the donkeys were no worse than other donkeys, but the road they had to travel was but a rough path and it seemed to me that any self-respecting donkey would not have taken advantage of so many rocks in the road for purpose of stumbling as these innocent looking animals did. The saddles were not fastened securely and the guides, one of whom accompanied each rider and shouted dreadful threats to the donkeys, were expected to hold the saddles on. When the donkey fell down, the saddle slipped forward and cuffed the animal on the head. When he went up a hill it settled insecurely on his tail and finally when the guide had grown tired of holding it on it tumbled off altogether.

The rain at last began to pour and the wind rushed violently down the mountain. It was impossible to hold umbrellas and cold, wet and disheartened the party reached the station of the funiculaire road that leads up the steep, yielding cone to within a few hundred yards of the crater of the volcano.

The only fire in the restaurant was in the kitchen and the head-waiter, who speaks five languages and probably gets about $20 a month,invited us to warm ourselves, an invitation we gladly accepted. When the world had assumed a brighter hue through the medium of an omelette and steak we started up the mountain again. The road is almost perpendicular and one feels much more as if the ascent were being made in an elevator than on a rail track. It is called a funiculaire, but is really a cable with double tracks and the cars are balanced so they pass each other midway of the distance. On either side are the great fields of lava and ashes,the former of course now cooled and in the most fantastic shapes, in which, as in clouds, one sees most clearly what his fancy suggests. Perhaps it was the influence of the donkey ride and the wether but it seemed to me Dore's illustrations of Dantes "Inferno" might have been photographs of these for nations.

At the top of the funiculaire we were met by a new relay of guides who took off their big coats and wrapped them about he drenched women in the party. Chairs carried by four men were to be had for those unable to walk to the crater. A guide went ahead of each of us and throwing a strap over his sheulder told us to hold it tight and and lean back. One's sympathy for the guide prevents him leaning back very far at first, but later sympathy is lost in fatigue and one resigns himself to being pulled bodily up the hil through the deep ashes. The carter was pointed out to us and we were warned not to go too close, but we saw a place a little foggy,then the dense mist covering the mountain, we saw the running lava which looked temptingly warm, and the sulphur which a bright yellow and smelled like a match factory. Descending the hill again to the funiculaire the ladies hung limply on the arms of the guides and regardless of best shoes, and silk underskirts suffered themselves to be dragged through the fine ashes, too weary and wet to protest.

At the lower station a stop of several hours was made in anticipation of a clearing up of the weather, a hope that proved to be vain however. During this time the registry album, a large blank book in which tourists may find a place to relieve their feelings, furnished us diversion. We were called upon to be proud of our erudite countrymen and women when we found these inscriptions after the big, black U. S.A. "It must be seen to be appreciated." "Grand be all description." "I imagined it a furnace fanned by a hot and raging goddess to avenge her wrath." Another had written: "We should have had it for Chicago" and still another of a less practical nature summed up the description of it in these words: "Grand, gloomy and peculiar," a man who had a day like ours for the ascent had written:

"The day is dark, and cold and dreary
The rain and mists are never weary
It is too windy, chill and damp
For ought but to snuffle, cuss and stamp."

No More New States.

The determination that it is reported from Washington has been arrested at not to admit any more new States at present will surprise no intelligent observer of the course by events. As a matter of act, we have now too many sparsely populated States abounding with people of unsettled and visionary idea and represented in the national law-making body by persons who are only too susceptible to their influence. Arizona New Mexico, Oklahoma and Indian Territory combined have not the population, intelligence or wealth of Allegheny county alone and the idea of giving them eight members of the United States Senate and four members of the House, with the result in all probability of blocking valuable legislation and promoting that of a vicious character, is by no means an enticing one. It is all very well to be adding new stars to the flag, but we want to be very sure that the additions will increase rather than dim its brightness.

Claim $10,000 Damages.

Kittanning, Jan 29—Lewis Apple and Joseph Nevins,a dry goods firm, entered suit today against Moses Joseph, a clothing dealer,for $10,000 damages for circulating a false statement, that they had made an assignment and that the sheriff was about to close them up.

TO CONSUMPTIVES.

The undersigned having been restored to health by simple means, after suffering for several years with a severe lung affection, and that dread disease Consumption, is anxious to make known to his fellow sufferers the means of cure. To those who desire it we will cheerfully send (free of charge) a copy of the prescription used, which they will find a sure cure for Consumption, Asthma, Catarrh, Bronchitis and all throat and lung maladies. He hopes all sufferers will try his remedy, as it is invaluable. Those desiring the prescription, which will cost them nothing, and may prove a blessing, will please address,

'TIS A SERIOUS CHARGE.

A Woman Arrested and Charged With Poisoning Her Husband.

Erie, Pa., Jan 27—Mrs. Kate M. Nellis and Edgar Gardner, who were arrested late last night at Girard,Pa.,on the charge of poisoning the woman's husband, Peter Nellis, had a hearing today when both pleaded not guilty. Mrs. Nellis is said to have been under the influence of Gardner, who is an alleged spiritual medium. Letters are in the possession of County Detectiye Sullivan from Gardner to Mrs. Nellis which he believes be will connect the former with the case indirectly at least. Gardner is said to have been predicting there would be a case of poisoning in Girard within two years. Last summer he sent word to Mrs. Nellis that the spirit directed her to go to Cassadaga and occupy a cottage there. She went and is said to have entertained the medium as well as her husband there for a long time at a cost of several hundred dollars. Gardner is said to have told Mrs. Nellis that in order to get closer relations with the spirits she must buy two diamond rings presenting one to him and wearing the other herself, which she did.

The investigation by the officers may lead to the implication of others Sunday night.

When Capt. Sullivan insisted upon searching a drawer in Mrs. Nellis' room she,who had been stolid and indifferent, implored him not to as there were only articles for toilet in the drawer, etc. In the drawer were found a lot of powders and letters which will have an important bearing on the case.

Mrs. Nellis has been carried away with spiritualism for some time, and it is to this fact that she owes her acquaintance with Gardner,whom she met at Lilly Dale There Mrs. Nellis met a Mrs. J. C. Stowe a medium, residing in Cincinnati, the mother of young Gardner. Mrs. Stowell has a complete control over Mrs. Nellis and the authorities expect to show that through this influence Gardner went to Girard ostensably as bartender, but really as a companion to Mrs. Nellis. It is therefore the theory that a scheme has been connected to get rid of Nellis, and letters from Mrs. Stowell running through a period of two years are expected to play a prominent part. These letters refer in a mysterious way to Nellis, usually designed as "N," and the matter of treating him. In one letter Mrs. Stowell expresses great concern over a package of powders she sent her son, Gardner, fearing they had been lost, and in another letter she insists that Nellis should be given more medicine and inquired particularly if a physician had been called. The prisoners are apparently unconcerned and have nothing to say.

Mrs. Nellis was released from jail today on $1,000 bail, her son Dan Nellis, becoming her bondsman. Mrs. Nellis was too much prostrated, however to leave the sheriff's house. Gardner, her partner in the plot against Nellis, is suffering from pulmonary troubles, and he too, is prostrated. Another batch of evidence was secured today connecting Mrs. Stowell, the Cincinnati medium, and who is Gardner's mother, with the conspiracy, and that she furnished the drug with directions for using it. Nellis is so grateful to Miss Maggie Holbrook, the dining room girl who saved his life and brought the conspirators into the hands of the law that he made her a present of $500. Miss Holbrook is under the protection of Mr. Nellis' daughter, Mrs. Dr. Rovers, of Conneaut.

Quit That Spitting.

The pathologists of the New York board of health have made a long report on the danger of infection and transmission of diphtheria, pneumonia, influenza and tuberculosis through expectoration. This is a subject which is not a nice one to handle, but its obvious truth must weigh heavily on every one. If there is one national habit over which we should be heartily ashamed it is this disgusting habit of "spitting." It should be stopped from a social if not from a bacteriological point of view. The testimony of science but confirms all that decency has ever believed as to its nastiness. Let a crusade be started, but not a heedless crusade but one based on a careful study of facts and methods, yet working to the end that the indiscriminate expectorater should be suppressed.—Philadelphia Press.

New Castle May Spread Its Limits.

New Castle, Pa., Jan. 28—There is a strong sentiment in favor of Greater New Castle, which will be one of the principal issues in the February election. West New Castle and Mahoningtown each have many citizens who favor such a move,and have placed a ticket in the field embracing councilmen who are favorable to annexation. At present the two boroughs are practically without police and fire protection, while the tax millage is greater than it is in the city.

Listened to Protests.

Harrisburg, Jan. 29—The secretary of the commonwealth to-day heard a large number of protests against the granting of charters to gas companies for York, Williamsport, Meadville, Lancaster, Norristown, Allentown and Bethlehem. In each case the old companies claim to have exclusive franchise. John J. White, of Philadelphia, is attorney for the new companies and the incorporators in each instance are the same, namely: Henry S. Paul, John Baker, Edward Taylor,Talbert Hibberd and John White.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrups, and Castor Oil. It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and allays feverishness. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curd, cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves teething troubles, cures constipation and flatulency. Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the Mother's Friend.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."
DR. G. C. OSGOOD, Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."
DR. J. F. KINCHELOE, Conway, Ark.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."
H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

A MURDER ON A TRAIN.

Pulls Two Revolvers And Fires Into A Crowd of Passengers.

Bluefields, W. Va., Jan. 28—Alex. Jones, a negro desperado, boarded a passenger train at Keystone last night. He was under the influence of whisky, very boisterous and quarrelsome. Conductor McCullough came through the cars and after demanding fare from Jones advised him to be quiet. The negro became much incensed, and when an attempt was made to eject him he pulled two revolvers from a belt and began firing promiscuously through the train, which was crowded with passengers. He emptied both revolvers and attempted to reload, but was overpowered by trainmen. When the smoke had cleared away and the excitement had abated it was discovered that W. H. Strother, postmaster at Elkhorn, was shot through the abdomen. The wound resulted in almost instant death.

Conductor McCullough was shot in the side, but not seriously injured, and Peter Rice, a colored miner, was shot through the right breast and probably fatally injured.

Jones was incarcerated in the Elkhorn jail to await the arrival of a train by which to convey him to Huntingdon for safe-keeping. The train arrived at 2 a.m. and the officers and prisoner boarded it without molestation. Meanwhile a mob had been organized at Welch, 15 miles west of Keystone, and had marched to Hemphill, a small station one mile west of Welch. The train was flagged by a danger signal and the mob, numbering 100 men boarded it and at the point of winchesters forced the officers to release the prisoner. They dragged Jones a short distance to a tree, where he was swung to a limb and his body riddled with bullets, the following note being attached:

"This deed was done for the purpose of example and warning to negroes, so beware."

Some of the most prominent and influential citizens of this section composed the mob. Jones, it is alleged, had killed three men prior to his last offense. Excitement is at a high pitch. An effort was made by Jones' friends to rescue him from the angry mob, but proved to be futile. W. H. Strother was one of the best known men in this section and had numerous friends. He had just succeeded Paul Fletcher, who was killed a short time ago, as postmaster at Elkhorn.

Altoona Police Sued for $10,000.

Hollidaysburg, Pa., Jan. 28—John Malone, an Altoona restaurant keeper, entered suit here to-day against four officials of the Altoona police department for $10,000 damages for false arrest. He was arrested as a participant in the Christmas day riot in the White Chapel district of Altoona, but alleges that he was only an innocent spectator.

Mistakes in Newspapers.

Every column of a newspaper contains from 5,00 to 25,00 distinct pieces of metal, according to the size of the paper and type. The displacement of one of these means an error. Is it any wonder that errors sametimes occur. Still some people think it awful to see mistakes in a paper, and when they find one they make it a point to tell the editor about it.

Two Trains Wrecked.

Ridgway, Pa., Jan 29—A northbound passenger and a southbound freight on the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburg railway were wrecked this afternoon in a head end collision about five miles north of this place. None of the passengers were seriously injured,but all were badly shaken up.

SELECTED A STATUTE.

The Hartranft Memorial Commission Select a Beautiful Design.

Harrisburg, Jan. 28—The Hartran memorial commission to select a design for a monument to the late General John F Hartranft met at the capitol today for that purpose. There were present Governor Hastings, Auditor General Mylin, State Treasurer Jackson, Adjt. Gen. Stewart, representatives of regiments that were under Hartranft. Others present were Mrs. Hastings, Mrs. Hartranft the Misses Hartranft, Mrs. A. W. Norris and Miss Hecker of Corry.

From six designs the commission finally selected that of F. W. Ruchstahl of New York. This design represents Gen. Hartranft on horseback returning home from war at the head of his troops. He is attired in the uniform of a general, with sword and field glass, and in his right hand holds his hat in response to the plaudits of the people. The face is turned slightly to the right. The horse is full of action; with right fore foot poised. When completed the bronze monument will stand on the plaza at the west front of the capitol looking towards the Dauphin county soldiers' monument and the Susquehanna river. It will be elevated on the granite pedestal. The total cast will be $18,000.

The late Dr. Jowett is reported to have once said to Mrs. Humphry Ward: "We shall come in the future to teach almost entirely by biography. We shall begin with the life that is most familiar to us, 'The Life of Christ,' and we shall more and more put before our children the great examples of persons' lives so that they shall have from the beginning heroes and friends in their thoughts."

The editors of this magazine thoroughly agree with Dr. Jowett. It has been, for a long time, their great desire to publish in these pages a "Life of Christ" which shall be, to quote Mr. Hall Caine's words in the December McClure's, "as vivid and as personal from the standpoint of belief as Renan's was from the standpoint and unbelief."

A Notable Ambition.

John McLuckie, ex-mayor of Homestead, has but one ambition in life, so he says, and that is to ruin Andrew Carnegie. According to his statement, made at a labor meeting in New York the other day, he has already spent $7,000 on his laudable object and is perfectly willing to spend as much more as he can get his hands on to reduce the rich iron-maker to pauperism. He boasts that he will make Carnegie disgorge the $5,500,000 he has obtained from the United States government for armor plate whose soundness was not above suspicion. We greatly fear this is a case of the dog barking at the moon.

Boys Explode Stolen Dynamite.

Wilkesbarre, Jan. 28—Some boys stole a large case of dynamite at Parson last night and exploded it in a culm pile. They narrowly escaped being blown to pieces, and the explosion caused a suspicion in the vicinity that there had been an earth quake.

Something Left Over.

Harrisburg, Jan. 29.—A final meeting of the executive committee of the Atlanta Exposition commission was held to-day There will be a balance of the appropriation to turn into the state treasury. A full financial statement will be prepared and filed.

ONE KILLED; MANY INJURED

Fatal Dynamite Explosion at Lewistown on Wednesday.

Lewistown, Pa., Jan. 22—A careless workman, a fire, a lot of dynamite and powder, were the means that led to one man losing his life and eleven others being fatally and seriously injured. The explosion took place at 11.30 a. m. to-day at the grading at Bixler's water station on the Pennsylvenia railroad, three miles and a half east of this place.

The dead man is:
Lawrence Moist, of Mattawana.

The injured are:
H. Wade, colored, fatally.
Howard F. Smith, seriously.
Thomas Ragen, seriously.
Two Italians, seriously.
Six Italians, slightly.

Just how the explosion occurred will probably never be known positively, as Moist, the man in charge of the explosives, is dead. The most correct surmise and statement of the facts are to the effect that he had some powder and dynamite thawing at the fire, and had them too close, when the heat fired them and they exploded with the above results. The force of the explosion was terrific, the noise being heard in town.

Moist was badly burned and cut and had one leg blown off between the knee and ankle, and was otherwise cut up. He only lived about an hour after the accident.

Wade, the colored man, had his arm broken and both legs torn open between the thigh and knee. It is thought he cannot survive.

Smith is cut on the face, hip, shoulder and body and is seriously injured.

Ragan has several bad cuts and flesh wounds on his limbs and body.

Two of the Italians are badly injured, being cut in almost every portion of the body that was exposed to the explosion.

The other six have cuts and bruises that are not serious, if properly cared for.

Smith, the injured man, is about the only one from whom information could be secured. His story is that while working he felt himself struck on the back by something and heard the explosion. He started to run but before he could get away was struck several times more. After he got out of the way he saw one of the Italians coming across the railroad with the blood flowing down his face, and saw the others laying around in the vicinity of the explosion.

Thomas M. Wallace, time-keeper for the contractor, had the men brought to the Lewistown Junction, where Drs. Harshbarger, Clarkson, Sweigert, Walker and Parcels rendered such surgical aid as was possible in a short time. Arrangements were made as quickly as it could be done to have the men sent to the hospitals at Harrisburg and Altoona. They were placed on the trains shortly after 1 o'clock and transferred to those institutions.

Moist will be shipped to his home for interment.

At 5 o'clock this evening a rumor was on the streets that Wade and the two seriously injured Italians had died just before reaching Harrisburg, but it could not be verified or disputed.

An explosion almost similar had taken place about a week before, from the same cause, but it failed to warn Moist.

Endorsed Hon. C. A. Miner.

Wilkesbarre, Jan. 21.—The republican county convention was in session here today and all of the six legislative districts endorsed Hon. C. A. Miner and instructed the delegates to the state convention to support him for delegate at large to the national convention.

Washington, Jan. 21.—The treasury gold reserve at the close of business to-day stood at $50,790,129. The withdrawals reported to-day amounted to $2,582,000.

He Wanted Loveine.

A young man of decidedly rural appearance entered an Eleventh avenue pharmacy yesterday and leaned nervously against the counter. The prescription clerk stepped up briskly and inquired what he wanted.

"I don't know whether you have it or not," the prospective customer said, doubtfully, gazing at the point where his trousers entered his boot tops.

"Oh, yes, we have it," remarked the clerk, glibly. "We handle everything on the market."

"Do you? I'm so glad." A ray of hope brightened his sunburned countenance. "I just thought I would stop in and see if you could—if I could, I mean—that is if a fellow could buy a bottle of loveine."

The prescription clerk looked dazed but the customer went on confidentially: "I don't mind telling you how the case stands. You see I'm kind o' stuck on a girl up our way, but she don't seem to return my affections. I heard as how you sold nervine, and all them things, an' I just thought you keep loveine too. How much is she a bottle."

"It's a mighty dangerous thing, loveine is," the clerk replied, winking hard at the soda fountain to hide his agitation.

"We're not allowed to sell it except on prescriptions."

"Gee whizz! Well, so long!" and the young man with the aching heart departed sadly, leaving the door open in his abstraction.—Altoona Tribune.

Tramps at Ridgway.

Stragglers of bands of "Knights of the Road" are again infesting the outskirts of this city, even with the horrors of the ball and chain act staring them in the face. Quite recently the writer observed a band of seven of these lazy vagabonds seated along the tracks of the B. R. & P. R. R. company. Some of them were reading greasy old newspapers which at some time had doubtless served as the wrappers of "hand-outs," others enjoyed themselves smoking dirty old clay pipes, while as a whole, the gang seemed to imagine that it was seated in cozy smoking and reading rooms. One of the members had been dispatched to procure food for their midday meal, the remains of which yet lay scattered on the ground, and from which they expected to secure sufficient to serve them for supper. If the general public was fully acquainted with the habits of these rogues it is doubtful if they would fare so well hereafter.—Elk Democrat.

May Annul Their Charter.

Chester, Jan. 22.

For the past eight months the people of this city have been paying for water that could not be used even for bathing purposes with any degree of satisfaction. For the past two weeks it has had an inky hue and a bad smell. It has become so bad that City Council has appointed a committee from Select and Common Council to act with the Board of Health, City Solicitor and the Mayor, to devise a remedy.

Mayor Hinkson, on whose recommendation the action was taken, recommends that Council annul the contract between the New Chester Water Company, and enter into a contract with the Springfield Water Company, or some other corporation who will furnish pure water. Several attorneys have refused to pay their water rent. Milkmen have established water routes, and are furnishing water to private houses at so much per gallon.

Last Fall's Official Vote.

Harrisburg, Jan. 21—The commission created by the legislature to compute the vote cast last Nov. for state treasurer, met in the senate chamber at noon to day Judge Simonton presiding. The computation showed the following vote cast:

Haywood, republican, 456,745; Meyers democrat, 282,481; Berry, prohibitionist 20,779; Dawson, people's, 7,802; Anton, social labor, 1,329. A committee informed Mr. Haywood of his election and his commission will be issued at once.

Think He Was Killed.

Lancaster, Jan. 24.—The relatives of John Frankford, the noted horse thief and jail-breaker, are not satisfied with the statement of the officials of the Eastern Penitentiary as to the causes of his death, and purpose having an investigation made.

It was officially announced that he died from the effect of an operation, but his relatives think that the true cause is an ugly-looking bruise as big as a silver quarter just above the left eye, which looks as if it had been inflicted by some kind of a blunt instrument.

Beside the opening made in the stomach to perform the operation, Frankford's head had been cut off on a line with the top of his ears. This has greatly incensed his relatives, who are outspoken in their belief that the great criminal met with a violent death.

DRINKING WATER.

Impure Drinking Water and its Many Evils—Disease Germs in Water.

Upon the purity of our drinking water depends our health. If the water we drink is foul or poisoned, disease is sure to result. Numerous epidemics of Typhoid Fever and Diphtheria have been traced directly to poisoned water.

The blood is the drinking water of the body. Every organ and tissue, every muscle and nerve is bathed in it and drinks from it.

If the blood is full of poisons and impurities, every organ in the body is poisoned and diseased by it.

Our blood is being constantly poisoned by the results of wearing out and breaking down of our organs and muscles. It is also being constantly clogged by the ashes of digestion.

It is the duty of the kidneys to filter these poisons out of the blood. They work without a moment's rest, day and night to do this. When they get sick, weak or sluggish, they fail to do it.

Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills heal, strengthen, and increase the natural power of the Kidneys. Asparagus is a wonderful medicine for the kidneys It is found in its best and most concentrated form in Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills.

REMARKABLE FAITH CURE

At Least Such Are the Surface Indications in a Queer Case.

Wilkesbarre, Jan 24—An interesting and remarkable story of a faith cure, which is said to be reliable, comes from West Pittston today. Wednesday evening Revs. W T McArthur and James Scoville, of Scranton, and M T Tulfort, of Elmira, began conducting services at West Pittston. They came from that place from Scranton, where they had been stationed for several weeks, and while there a young man named Charles Miller, son of the late Rev. E Miller, of Scranton became interested in the faith cure ministers' preaching. They set forth a doctrine that everybody suffering from any corporal diseases or affliction can be cured if their faith in God be strong enough, and if they pray to him with sufficient fervency and sincerity.

Young Miller, who for years, had absolutely no use of his left arm, it being paralyzed several years ago, became such a deep believer in the faith cure that he followed the trio of ministers to West Pittston, and yesterday he requested them to pray for him that it might be God's will to restore his arm to its former strength and usefulness. They told him they would immediately do so, and instructed Miller to do likewise. This was in the afternoon. When Miller went home for supper last night he could move the fingers of his left hand—a feat which, for a number of years he was unable to accomplish. When he again went to the minister's after supper and shook hands with them he was able to lift his left hand and the minister's right when clasped. The arm steadily grew more useful and vigorous and before this morning he was able to swing it around his head. The arm is now as sound and useful as before Miller was stricken with paralysis. The cure is a complete and marvelous one, and was today corroborated by Miller himself and many friends who had known of his affliction.

Miller says that it is his certain belief that the paralysis which struck him down was a visitation from the Lord as a punishment for his not entering the ministery and his lack of faith. He now intends to enter the ministery at once and dedicate the remainder of his life to preaching the word of God and enlightening his fellow beings.

take it morning, noon and night, and will cure you. I took the medicine a directed, but had no confidence in a cure as my case had been tried by so many After using it a week I began to feel better, and in a short while after that I was entirely cured. That terrible distress everything I ate, breaking upinmy throa had all gone and I have not had a moment' discomfort since. To-day there isn't a healthier man and my appete is grand.'

Governor Hastings Home.

Harrisburg, Jan. 24.—Governor Hastings and party arrived in Harrisburg this morning from their trip to the south and southwest, all in most excellent health. The governor seems robust and has undoubtedly recovered his vigor. Attorney General McCormick left the party at Tyrone and went to Williamsport.

The governor did not go to the executive department because it is all torn up by reason of improvements that are being made there. He will not be in the department before Monday. He found a number of important matters to claim his attention, and with his private secretary at once began business.

Must Close at 10.30 p. m.

Gettysburg, Jan 24—In the License Court today Judge Swope announced that an old rule of court, for many years in obeyance, would be enforced again, and ordered that henceforth all bars must be closed at 10.30 p. m. The local hotel proprietors are much annoyed and hold that, by reason of the large transient business of Gettysburg, this rule is not equitable to them nor to the excursionists and battlefield visitors.

comes to stay

There is more than one food which will cause the body to increase in weight. A free supply of sugar will do this; so will the starchy foods; cream, and some other fats. But to become fleshy, and yet remain in poor health, is not what you want. Cod-liver oil increases the weight because it is a fat-producing food. But it does far more than this. It alters, or changes, the processes of nutrition, restoring the normal functions of the various organs and tissues.

Scott's Emulsion

of Cod-liver Oil with hypophosphites, is pure cod liver in a digested condition. So that when a person gains in weight from taking Scott's Emulsion, it is because of two things: First, the oil has acted as a fat-producing food; and, second, it has restored to the body a healthy condition. Such an improvement is permanent; it comes to stay.

HIGH SCHOOL LITERARY.

What Was Done at the Brick Building on Monday Afternoon.

A large and well executed program was presented at the literary society of the Bellefonte High school on Monday afternoon. This rhetorical work has grown each year for some time and now it is one of the most interesting and instructive parts of the school work. Careful training has developed the literary talent of each student to a remarkable extent. Each subject is thoroughly mastered before presented at the society thus doing away with the students becoming embarrassed, which in many cases is largely owing to the fact that the subjects are not properly prepared. The exercises on Monday afternoon were as follows:

Singing by school—"My Own Native Land."

Essay—"The Life of James T. Garfield" Willis Knox.

Rec.—Master Johnny's Next Neighbor" Lola Strohm.

Dec.—"Knowledge" Robert Lyon.

Essay—"James T. Garfield" Blanche Underwood.

A Great Whistle.

Warden Sage, of Sing Sing prison, is having constructed an immense and powerful steam whistle to be used to alarm officers and citizens in case of an escape, an uprising in the prison or fire. It will also signal the beginning of work in the shops in the morning and the shutting down at night. The whistle is known as a Pitts patient twelve inches three-barred steam gong, and is the largest in use. It is composed of three cylindrical bells or barrels placed one above the other. These barrels are fastened to the steam conductor, which passes through them. The entire whistle is eight feet in height, and, contrary to ordinary whistles, the barrels or resonators are inverted. Each barrel has a different tone, thus producing a blended sound, without ear-splitting efforts. It is asserted that under favorable atmospheric conditions the hhistle can heard at a distance of thirity miles. Even under unfavorable circumstances the alarm should be heard seven or ten miles away.

ELECTED OFFICERS.

State Board of Agriculture Held a Meeting in Harrisburg.

Harrisburg, Jan. 22—At today's annual meeting of the state board of agriculture these officers were elected: President, Gov. Hastings, ex-officio; first vice president, L Piollet, Bradford county; second vice president, S Downing, Chester; G G Hutchinson, Huntingdon; executive committee J A Herr, Clinton; C Cooper, Lancaster; G Hiesler, Dauphin; J Thomas, Cambria; G G Heyburn, Delaware; Jason Saxton, Montgomery and W Shinafelt, Clarion; secretary, T J Edge.

Reports were submitted by the ex-dairy and food commissioner, Eastburn Reeder, for the portion of the last year that he was in office, and by the present commissioner Major Wells. The principal discussion to day was on the question of the perpetuation of the board and the charge of representation. The legislature attached a proviso to the appropriation for the board last winter to the effect that vacancies in the board were not to be filled; in other words, that the organization was to be permitted to die a natural death. Now the board refuses to accept the appropriation, and will suggest some new legislation to give it a new lease of life. A committee on legislation has been appointed, with Judge Thomas, of Cambria, as chairman. The members will pay their own expenses at this meeting, and changes will be adopted in the manner of electing members.

Samuel R Downing read an interesting paper on "Roads and Road Laws," and incidentally scored those who tried to wipe out the board in the legislature. Prof. John Hamilton read a paper on "Farmers' Institutis." This evening Deputy Attorney General El in delivered an address on "What a farm Deed Includes."

Be Examined Soon.

Harrisburg Jan. 22.—The eighth annual report of the state pharmacentical examining board was to-day filed with the secretary of state. Louis Emanuel, of Pittsburg, is president of the board, Charles T. George of Harrisburg, secretary; Henry C. Porter, of Towanda, treasurer. The other two members are E. A. Cornell, of Williamsport, and F. A. Boericke, M. D., of Philadelphia. At the first quarterly examination 113 candidates presented themselves eighty-four for registered pharmacist's certificates and twenty-four for qualified assistant certificates. Thirty-seven passed out of the 113, twenty-four as registered pharmacists and thirteen as qualified assistants. Three hundred and twelve presented themselves for examination at the second meeting, 186 for registered pharmacist'scertificates and 128 for qualified assistant's certificates. Twenty-seven of the former class and sixty-two of the latter class passed.

At the third meeting there were 333 applicants. Fifty passed as registered pharmacists and sixty as assistants. At the last meeting 310 were examined and 104 passed as qualified pharmacists and sixty-three as assistants.

Last year there were 1,067 examined, the largest number examined in any one year.

The treasurer's report shows a balance on hand of $998. The total receipts last year aggregated $4,126. The main expenses ere for postage, fees, meetings, salaries, extra work, ect. The revenues arose from examination fees.

Laid to Rest.

The funeral services over the remains of Aunt Mary Reese were held from the Forge church at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Rev. C. C. Miller ably assisted by Rev. J. F. Tallhelm, a former pastor of Mrs. Reese, and Rev. J. C. Young, pastor of the M. E. church at Valentine's Furnace, had charge of the sad ceremonies. The funeral was largely attended as the deceased was well known throughout the entire county for her kindness to everybody.

Mrs. Mary Reese was born in Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 28th, 1814. She came to Bellefonte during her youth and settling down went to housekeeping and resided here until her death which occurred Jan. 21, 1896. She was exactly 81 years, and 23 days old. Her husband preceded her to the grave 17 months ago. About sixty years ago she was converted to God and united with the church of the United Brethren in Christ, where she remained faithful to the end. One week before she died her presence was enjoyed by those attending the revival services in the United Brethren church. Aunt Mary will no longer be seen going from house to house comforting the sick. She never retired from the active work of the Master. A saint has fallen asleep in Jesus whose works do follow.

Now a Presidential Post Office.

Lebanon, Jan. 24.—The post office at Annville, this county, has become a Presidential post office, and Collins Dean, a well-known local Democratic politician, has been notified by President Cleveland of his appointment to the office of postmaster.

A CONFIDENTIAL CHAT

between two men or women generally develops the fact that one or both are troubled by sickness of some kind. One man is all right except his rheumatism, another has a "slight touch" of dyspepsia, another has bilious headaches, and another is too nervous to sleep well. What's to be done about it?

The situation is serious. Little things have a way of getting big. Big diseases are bad things. Sleeplessness brings irritable nerves, loss of flesh, loss of appetite. Sleepless people soon get their bodies into such a condition that disease-germs find it easy to lodge there and propagate. People die from the aggravation of an aggregation of little things. The more promptly a disease or disorder is met the more quickly it is cured.

Most all sickness starts in the stomach, liver or lungs. Rheumatism, scrofula, eczema, consumption, come about because insufficient, impure or impoverished blood is present. The diseased blood finds the weakest spot in the body and a local symptom appears. If the impurity is supplanted with good, rich, red, healthy corpuscles, the disease will have nothing to feed on. If the proper cleansing medicine is sent to the seat of the trouble, it will force out the germs and repair the damage done.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a cleansing, purifying medicine, a blood enricher, a nerve strengthener. It is an efficient tonic, aids digestion, creates healthy appetite and healthy flesh. It does not make people "fat." It makes them strong. It makes useful flesh—solid muscle. It will cure any sickness that has its source in the digestive organs, or through them in the blood.

STATE HEALTH OFFICERS.

The Third Annual Meeting Opens in Harrisburg—Bacteriology Discussed.

Harrisburg, Jan. 24—The third annual meeting of the Associated Health Authorities, of which Governor Hastings is president, convened in the Senate Chamber today, there being about 100 health boards represented. Owing to Governor Hastings' absence from the city Vice President Crosby Gray, of Pittsburg, presided.

Dr. Hugh Hamilton, in behalf of Mayor Eby, warmly welcomed the association to Harrisburg, and urged the necessity of action being taken to insure a pure water supply for this city. Vice President Gray responded in an interesting speech, and the meeting was then ready for business.

Dr. Robert L. Pitfield, of Philadelphia, read a paper on bacteriological examinations in cases of diphtheria and suspected diphtheria, in which he dwelt upon the importance of being certain before pronouncing any ordinary sore throat diphtheria. Dr. R. Meade Bolton, of Philadelphia, explained the methods of bacteriological examinations and spoke of their great advantage to committees in quickly determining the nature of the disease.

Dr. Joseph McFarland, the eminent lecturer on bacteriology in the University of Pennsylvania, spoke of antitoxin, or as he called it, "diphtheria antitoxic serum,' telling of its curative and preventive properties and the beneficial results that had been obtained from its use.

Dr. Lee reviewed the work of the Executive Committee for the past year, dwelling upon the efforts made to get the health boards of the State interested.

Forestry Commissioner Rothrock made an address on the relation of forestry to water supplies, and the association indorsed his proposition to have the State reserve mountain tops and other reservations of woodlands for the purpose of water supply.

To-night's session was taken up in the reading and discussion of a paper on the protection of water supplies, by Professor Francis C. Phillips, of the Western University of Pennsylvania.

MARRIED AT LOW MASS.

A Pretty Wedding at St. John's Catholic Church This Morning.

A very pretty but strictly private wedding was performed at low mass this morning at St. John's Catholic church by Father McArdle. The contracting parties were Miss Augusta Crider and Mr. Thomas A. Shoemaker, both of Bellefonte. After the wedding ceremony the newly married couple repaired to a delicious wedding breakfast. At 10.09 they departed amidst a shower of rice on a tour of eastern cities.

Secretary Latta's Report.

Harrisburg. Jan. 21.—Secretary of Internal Affairs Latta has prepared a report showing the taxes paid during the year 1895 by the people of Pennsylvania for the maintenance of State, county, city, borough and township governments. The report contains returns from the commissioners of every county in the State, except Schuylkill, and is the most complete and comprehensive ever issued by the department on the subject of taxation.

The consolidated returns show that the total amount of taxes collected for the support of the poor was $1,593,755.93. This amount is levied and collected directly and does not include all money expended for the purpose. There was appropriated last yeat from the county treasuries for the support of the poor in the counties of the State having almshouses $742,664.06, which, added to the amount collected directly, makes a total of $2,336,419.90. The amount collected during the year for the construction and repair of streets, roads and bridges was $9,019.185.77.

COST OF COMMON SCHOOLS.

In the sixty-six counties making a report it is found that the common schools have made necessary the levy and collection of $11,930,907.61. This does not include the amount received by the school district direct from the State Treasurer. The amount of taxes collected for purposes other than those already mentioned was $25,373,200.87. This includes the amount expended by the several Boards of County Commissioners for the support of the county governments.

The counties making returns collected $47,917,140.48 in taxes for all purposes during the year.

Under special subjects of taxation it is found that personal property has been made to pay $2,733,279.33. There have been collected on occupations taxes to the amount of $1,084,828.60. The total amount received during the year from license was $4,943,937.65. Of this amount Philadelphia collected $2,484,181.50 and Allegheny county $993,598.25. The total amount of taxes for the year collected on the real estate of railway corporations was $741,293.66. Philadelphia and Pittsburg are the only places in the State where all real estate of railway corporations is subject to taxation for certain local purposes. The taxes on real estate of corporations other than railways amounted to $1,863,835.41.

Is it "overwork" that has filled this country with nervous dyspeptics?—that takes the flesh off their bones, the vitality from their blood, and makes them feeble, emaciated and inefficient? No. It is bad cooking, overeating of indigestible stuff, and other health destroying habits.

The remedy is an artificially digested food such as the Shaker Digestive Cordial. Instead of irritatjng the already inflamed stomach the Cordial gives it a chance to rest by nourishing the system itself and digesting other food taken with it. So flesh and strength return. Is not the idea rational? The Cordial is palatable and relieves immediately. No money risked to decide on its value. A 10 cent trial bottle does that.

Laxol is the best remedy for children. Doctors reccommend it in place of castor oil.

Local Institute.

The Local Institute No 3 of the public school teachers of Spring, Benner and Walker townships and these of the Bellefonte schools, was held at the Stone public school building this morning. During the session the following papers were read: "The Preposition," Prof. Rutt; "The Story in Primary Schools," Miss Rankin; "The Kindergarden," Miss Dorworth; "Reading," Miss Fox; "Morals," Misses Smith and Weaver; "System," Miss Strickland; "Object Lessons," Miss Longacre. Prof. D. O. Etters made a brief talk on 'The Importance of Good Reading' which was very instructive. Prof. Ammerman spoke on "Mechanical Powers." Other business of minor importance was transacted after which the session adjourned.

IN DEFENSE OF WILSON.

Veracity of the Detectives Attacked and an Alibi Sought to Be Set Up.

Hollidaysburg, Pa., Jan. 24—In the trial to-day of Frank Wilson for the murder of Henry Bonnecka, the defense indicated that they hope to establish an alibi and to prove that the detectives employed by the prosecution are untruthful witnesses. Several merchants from Philadelphia and from Gloucester and Woodbury, N. J., to whom Detective Theodore Jones owed small bills, testified that he was not veracious. Wilson's attorneys scored the detectives for confining Wilson in a cell where a picture of the murdered Bonnecka was the only ornament.

It was developed in the testimony today that two attempts had been made to rescue Wilson from the custody of the detectives. One was made by members of the A. P. A., and the second by a young woman of Scranton, with whom he had started a flirtation. Three neighbors of the murdered man and several Altoona physicians testified that it was possible that Bonnecka had been killed several days before his remains were discovered and while Wilson was a prisoner in jail on other charges.

Will Meet at Ambler.

Harrisburg, Jan 24—The State Board of Agriculture adjourned at noon after deciding to hold a meeting at Ambler, Montgomery county, in October, at the expense of the members, when certain proposed legislature to be prepared by the legislative Committee will be acted upon.

At to day session papers were read on "More brain work, less area and larger profits," by Calvin Cooper, Lancaster: 'The Conservation of our Soils,' by Dr. S Heilman, Heilmandale, and "Farmers' Institutes in other States," by Colonel John A Woodward, Center. Colonel Woodward gave a terse outline of the wor of farmers' institute as exemplified in other states, and drew some logical deductions from the results there obtained as regards the best methods for Pennsylvania to adopt The meeting was well attended.

Eciton.

You may puzzle a long time over that word before you tell how to pronounce it.

Take the last end first and read backwards, and you have the familiar word "notice." Thus it might puzzle you to learn that "Yrevocsid Lacidem Nedlog" cures incipient consumption and all scrofulous impurities of the blood, and is a sure remedy for piles, skin affections and all complaints due to a deranged liver. Take the right hand end of your title and read backwards and you have the "Golden Medical Discovery;' the famous preparation of Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo. Get hold of disease by the right end. Don't wait until the undertaker is the only man that can do anything. "G. M. D." cures consumption, lung scrofula, when taken in the early stages of the disease.

IT TOUCHES THE SPOT.

OUTWITTED.

Farmer Harris had long been renowned for his thrift and independence, but the neighbors declared that Joe would never make such a man. In some ways fate was against Joe. He was an only son and his mother and five sisters had spoiled him. He was a bright boy for his age, too, and a good one, but his father had not much confidence in his motly coddled son. Joe had an idea that he was as capable as most boys, but his father would always say, "Why, when I was half Joe's age, I was my father's mainstay."

One August day Mr. Harris had a slight sunstroke after working hard in the fields getting ready a load of fresh corn to be taken to market in a neighboring town on the following day. This was a predicament indeed, as his men were not to be trusted, and he had small confidence in Joe's ability. However, he had to make the best of it and send Joe with one of the hired men to help.

The journey was accomplished without any unusual event, and Joe, to his great delight, sold every ear of corn, and as the crop was an extra fine one, he realized quite a sum of money for his large wagon load, and he sold the three jars of butter his mother had made for the hotel keeper. It was about dusk, and Joe, who was feeling very good after his day's work, wished the distance was 17 miles instead of 7 to the farm. There was a footpath which crossed the fields at a distance from the highroad, and by walking he could reach home before Andrew, the hired man, who rode. Strange to say, he met no one on the road, and yet he was sure he had heard footsteps. Then the thought that he was being followed entered his head, and he started to run again, but the footsteps still followed. As a last resource he jumped the hedge at the side of the path, hoping that in the dim light his pursuer would miss him. But there was no such good luck in store for him, and in another moment a burly ruffian had jumped the hedge and demanded the bag of money.

As quick as a wink Joe picked up a stone and flung it at the man, hitting him on the head and knocking him down. Then, without waiting to see what harm the blow had done, he took to his heels, retracing his steps, in the hope of meeting with some assistance on the highroad. He had gone but a few yards, when he ran into the open arms of a huge man, who being outpaced by his companion, was ready to catch the boy as he saw him coming. There was no use in calling for help, and Joe's kicks and cries were to no purpose other than to anger the ruffians. He might have effected his escape had not the other man, nursing a black eye, appeared at that moment. That was the last he knew until he came to himself some hours later. He was in a cornfield, and the moon was shining brightly above him. The bag of money was missing of course, and to go home without it after what he had said to his father was not to be thought of. He would follow the men and perhaps a chance to recover the money might offer.

It must have been about noon when, hungry and tired, Joe stopped at a farmhouse and asked for a drink. The kind hearted farmer, seeing that the lad was hungry, made him sit down to a hearty dinner, and Joe told his story to the sympathetic family.

"Two tramps passed here about daylight," volunteered the farmer's daughter. "Can you describe the men?"

He could, and his description tallied exactly with that of the tramps seen by the farmer's daughter, especially about one man having a very black eye. They had taken the road to the north, she said, but they were wicked looking men, and she advised Joe not to attempt to follow them.

The men were far ahead, but by making careful inquiries at a country store he learned that they had staid in the village some time and could not be more than a couple of miles away. This intelligence spurred him on, and in two hours he caught sight of the pair crossing a field some distance ahead. Keeping well in the shelter of fences and trees, he followed as close as he dared. It was a sultry day, and the sun scorched everything with which it came in contact. They were now approaching the river, and Joe looked with longing eyes at the cool water.

To his great surprise the two men stopped on the bank, and after talking for some time they removed their clothes and piling them in a crevice in the stone wall they prepared to enter the water. The younger of the two, the one whom Joe had decorated with a black eye, looked suspiciously in every direction before he went down the bank, but seeing nothing to alarm him he went ahead with his bath. Apparently neither of the men could swim. They splashed about in the shallow water, while Joe, with fast beating heart, crept under the shelter of some bushes warily toward the pile of clothes, for he was confident his money was concealed in them. If he could only get it and get away without being discovered!

This seemed likely to be the case, for he had the bundle of clothes in his arms and had risen from the ground and cleared the fence before an exclamation from one o the men announced that he was discovered. Joe threw the clothes, with the exception of the trousers he felt to contain the bag of money, into the river as he rapidly crossed the little footbridge. At the end of the bridge the road had lately been covered with broken stones, and here Joe was able to make good progress away from his barefooted pursuer. The man had paused a moment when he saw his clothes splash into the water, but evidently considering that the clothes were less valuable than the money he hurried on as he was. The broken stones were soon passed, and then at every step the man gained upon Joe, and had it not been for a close prickly hedge nearby through which the boy forced his way, he would undoubtedly have been caught. He reflected that if the ruffian made up his mind to force his way through the briers he would suffer much more than he, and so he made the best of his advantage thus gained.

At last the man came through, threatening and swearing at the terrified Joe, who, feeling that his strength could not last much longer, doubled his pace. In vain he looked for some living thing to help—for a house in which to hide, but there was not one in sight. The ruffian had ceased his threatening, but his silence was far worse, and Joe could hear the patter of his bare feet close behind.

It was of no use. He was losing ground every minute, and it would be impossible to outrun this man. He made a last spurt, however, and dashing about a corner of the fence came in sight of the winding river again. Ah, there was another chance! Without a moment's hesitation Joe raised his hands above his head and dived from the bank and with two or three quick strokes under water he came up several yards ahead of his pursuer. The man had dashed into the water without realizing that he could not swim and Joe was ahead of him and over his depth now.

As Joe calmly climbed the opposite bank after his refreshing bath the half drowned ruffian was being pulled from the water by his companion, who had secured the clothes and followed as fast as possible. Awful threats of vengeance were poured on Joe's head from across the water when the ruffian recovered the use of his lungs and the volley of stones that came nearly across the river was appalling. Joe coolly occupied himself in wringing the water from his clothes and in shaking his fist at the men and returning some of their threats.

When he had rested awhile he prepared to start for home, which must have been some 18 miles distant. He rolled the trousers up, and depositing them on the bank shouted to the men that they were ready as soon as they cared to call for them. Then taking off his hat with a flourish he turned his back and was on the road for home. He reached the house of a friendly farmer at nightfall and spent the night there. The next morning he reached home safely and handed the money bag to his father.—Exchange.

The market is full of cough mixtures, but one trouble with most of them is that when they do a little good the patient has to take so much that he gets to loathe the taste. The Pineola Balsam is superior to other cough remedies because it is agreeable to the palate and its good effects are immediate. In a few days an ordinary cough is gone altogether. Bronchitis and asthma are more stubborn, but they too are cured by Ely's Pineola Balsam. A remedy worth trying. Twenty-five cents is all it costs.

ON TRIAL FOR MURDER.

Frank Wilson of Altoona Arraigned at the Hollidaysburg Court.

Hollidaysburg, Jan 23—In the trial of Frank Wilson today for the murder of Henry Bonnecka, the court ruled that the wax works representation of a murder scene that is said to have terrified Wilson into a confession of his crime must be brought from the Eden Musee, New York to form the best evidence of the truth of that allegation.

R C Simpson, David Sheridan and Theo. Jones, detectives in the employ of the State Secret Service bureau of Wilkesbarre testified that Wilson is the leader of a gang of crooks that have terrorized Central Pennsylvania for years. The detectives disguised themselves as professional crakesmen, and after obtaining the confidence of the crooks and admissions of their guilt, arrested Wilson, Farrel and Peddicord, the leaders of the gang. Wilson is implicated in three attempted murders and burglaries. At Canton, O., he is said to have sandbagged an old man named Toby Jackson, securing $2,700. Plots to rob the First National bank, of Hollidaysburg, a bank at Independence, Iowa, and the American Express company's office, at Chicago, were discovered by the detectives. The skull of the murdered Bonnecka, exhumed from the grave, was exhibited in evidence.

Opening Their Eyes.

After almost a month's exposure through these columns the people of Bellefonte are commencing to see how they have been imposed upon by the Pennsylvania Railroad for more than thirty years. They are doing more too besides opening their eyes—they are commencing to act. By acting they are deserting the Pennsylvania and are giving all their support to the Central. It is no more than right either that they should. Every person in Bellefonte should have the welfare of the city at heart as then they are continually benefitting themselves. How can they have the welfare of their city at heart? By supporting the Pennsylvania? No, never. A man who patronizes Bellefonte's greatest enemy is only making preparations for his own funeral. By supporting the Central and forgetting that any other road ever ran into Bellefonte is the only way to do your shipping if you have the welfare of your own city at heart. Don't stop at the shipping from Bellefonte but take particular pains to see that all your goods from the city are shipped to you via. the Reading and Central. See all your friends and use your influence over them and persuade them to support the Central. Keep it in mind that had it not been for the Central you would still be paying exhorbitant freight rates. As it is now the rates are more reasonable. But then the Pennsylvania still has the advantage over our merchants in shipments between Bellefonte and Pittsburg. As it is it takes a most a week to receive goods from Pittsburg. This is because there are no competing lines between these two points. But the people console themselves with the fact that such will not always be the case. As soon as there is another road between here and Pittsburg everybody in this city will entirely forget that there is such a road as the Pennsylvania.

Bellefonte merchants and shippers are now commencing to realize that it is the Central and not the Pennsylvania that is their friend. They are also commencing to figure out just how much they have been robbed of by the Pennsylaania by outrageous freight rates. To some, of course, it don't mean so much, while to others it means in many cases a small fortune. Even as it is now the Pennsylvania charges more for shipping than the Central. Why just the other day a gentleman told the writer that he had received a sleigh from Syracuse, N. Y., over the Central and the freight on it amounted to $1.50. A few days later he received a buggy over the Pennsylvania Railroad and the freight on it amounted to $1.58. Now the buggy weighed more than fifty pounds less than the sleigh, took longer to come and yet there was more freight to pay on it than there was on the sleigh. This is only one instance out of hundreds of others that have lately been called to the attention of the writer. What is the result? Why they are going to ship over the cheapest and most accommodating road and that road is the Central.

The Professor Talks To His Class.

Dr. Liebman, Professor of Pathological Anatomy, asked his class of several hundred young men how many of them had catarrh. Over two-thirds raised their hands and the Professor, said "It is evident that among people a very larger proportion will be afflicted. In your practice you will find men, women and children who have either a simple catarrh from a slight cold in the head, or with the mucous passages inflamed with running sores, or with the passages of the head entirely eaten away and the disease extending to the throat and still others where the disease has reached the acute form making breathing almost impossible. In my daily practice I prescribe a balm made in Dayton, Ohio, known as Pretzinger's Catarrh Balm, that is not a secret patent medicine but which carries large quantities of camphors, which act directly on the passages of the head, giving instant relief. This Balm can be prescribed with every confidence."

A small sample will be sent by Pretzinger Bros., Chemists, Dayton, Ohio, on receipt of a 2 cent stamp.

—This is court week and consequently there are many visitors in town.

—We regret to learn that C. M. Rower, Esq., is confined to his home, on Linn street, w th sickness.

—Fire not long ago burned the store of Evan W. Griffith, at Indiana. The loss is $900 with an insurance of $500.

—Editor William C. Smith, of the Everett Press, is a candidate for re-election to the legislature from Bedford county.

—Some of the Bellefone girls are gen erously administering loveine to the unprotected youths around town. It is really too bad.

—Almost a month of the girls' golden opportunity has passed away already. Mothers' apron strings come in rather handy just now.

—The little boys are already commencing to play base ball on the streets. This looks encouraging for a team this season anyway.

—The lecture at the Court House on Thursday evening will be free. Such an opportunity as this should be taken advantage of by everybody.

—R. H. Kell, justice of the peace, of Blain, Perry county, had his right leg amputated near the hip at a Philadelphia hospital one day last week.

—Mrs. Eva Millburn, mother of Mrs.F F. Fetterhoff, of Huntingdon, died at her home near Bedford on Monday morning at 2.45, aged 66 years and 1 month.

—There was no evening service at the Presbyterian church on Sunday owing to Dr. Laurie having a severe cold. Judge Beaver read the sermon in the morning.

—Nearby towns are rather giving Bellefonte the cold shoulder in arranging a league. They evidently remember that Bellefonte swiped them all several years ago.

—Mrs. Alexander Reams. of near Janesville, Clearfield county, fell a few days ago, breaking her left thigh. She is advanced in years and the accident may prove very serious.

—On Tuesday of last week W. W. Landis, of Turbett, Juniata county, attempted to board a moving train on the Tuscarora Valley road. He was thrown to the ground and his left arm was broken.

—The Huntingdon Daily News on Saturday issued a first page business review edition. It was well gotten up and embraced many firms. The Daily News is always up to date in whatever it attempts.

—Huntingdon county during the year 1895 received into its treasury $107,109.41, and had a balance of $997.54 when the auditors completed their work the other day. The county's debt is $101,276.67.

—The Greek Catholic church was dedicated with imposing ceremonies at Johnstown on Sunday, which was preceded by a parade in which all the Slavonic, Hungarian and Greek societies of the city took part.

—Several liverymen got into a dispute over a horse trade on Tuesday evening and soon were trying to separate each other from their breath. They were parted however before any damage was wrought.

—Israel Miller and William Moore, track men employed by the Pennsylvania railroad company, were struck by a train near Mountain Grove, a short dis tance be low Williamsport, Friday morning, and both were instantly killed.

—The Students' Press Club of State College pay a glowing tribute to the ability of Signor Bistolfi and his New York Trio. They pronounced them as willing performers and say every selection was well received on Saturday evening.

—Judge Gordon, of Clearfield, has granted license to 89 hotels, 13 restaurants, 6 wholesale houses, 5 breweries and 1 distillery. He refused 21 hotels, 4 restaurants and 5 wholesale houses. There are held over 4 applications for hotel license and 1 wholesale.

—Thursday night last the residence of Rev. Father Deasy, at Ebensburg, was entered by unknown parties and an overcoat, hat and some cigars were taken. The same night the cash register of the Brown hotel was carried off. It only contained $2. At Craver's hotel a lot of cigars and liquors were stolen.

—The Williamsport bicycle exchange was recently burglarized by two boys—Ed Lewis and Herbert Drula—each aged about 12 years. Two revolvers and three watches were among the articles taken. The boys were afterwaad arrested and returned the goods. They were confirmed readers of dime novels.

Looking Backward.

When the people of Bellefonte look over the events of the last thirty years the most noticeable thing they see is this motto labelled on the door of 40 per cent of the business houses: "HIGH FREIGHT RATES HELD US DOWN." The other 60 per cent of the business houses bore this motto: "OUT OF BUSINESS; KILLED BY THE PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD." It is indeed a story that can be read between the lines. When you solve the secret you can come to only one conclusion: No railroad competition was Bellefonte's greatest curse.

Let us see how the people welcomed the day when the Central loomed up into existence. It was greeted with shouts of joy and signs of relief from every citizen in Bellefonte. This was because it means that at last the tyrancy of the Pennsylvania was at an end; that in the future the people of this city would at least have half a chance to live-something they had never known for more than a quarter of a century.

Let us see how this was received by the Pennsylvania. Did they greet it with shouts of joy? This can be better answered by an examination of the records of the courts. There can be found a petition for an injunction to restrain the Central people from using a siding near Valentine's Furnace. What was this done for? It was a last and desperate effort to try and keep the Central from entering Bellefonte. Doesn't it show how much the Pennsylvania loves (?) Bellefonte? After this corporation had already robbed our merchants and shippers of thousands of dollars still they are not satisfied and wanted more They are getting it—in the neck.

As soon as the Central entered this city the Pennsylvania came down in their freights rates. Keep this in mind. It was the first drop in Pennsylvania freight rate to Bellefonte shippers for more than thirty years. Don't they love (?) our merchants though?

Naturally the greater part of the shipping was done over the Central—and is yet as far as that is concerned—as soon as that road was opened for business. But every now and then one of our merchants would have a bill of goods come over the Pennsylvania. He had forgotten what he had suffered and neglected to instruct the city shippers to bill his goods via Reading and Central. Since the Daily News has been recalling the many outrages of the Pennsylvania these one or two merchants no longer neglect their duty when making shipments. They now write on every order "SHIP THESE GOODS VIA. READING AND CENTRAL!" There is no mistaking what that order means. It means that the people of Bellefonte are through with their enemies. They will no longer be bullied by the railroad company. The few merchants who make occasional shipments over the Pennsylvania are now giving that to the Central. Just the other day one of the most prominent business men in Bellefonte sent an order to the city for a large bill of goods. He had not marked on the order how the goods were to be sent but a few moments after mailing the order he sent another letter. His goods came via the Reading and Central. What was in that second letter? Nothing but these words: SHIP THESE GOODS VIA. THE READING AND CENTRAL! this merchant had been reading up the articles in these columns and the above is the result. There are others joining the Central forces every day. They realize it is for their own good to do so. On every hand the REPUBLICAN is being endorsed for exposing the outrages of the Pennsylvania Railroad. When this is the case it can readily be seen that the Central, and the Central only, is the Bellefonte shippers' friends.

He Gave Advice.

One of the most interesting, if not one of the most trifling cases, which has been disposed of in the Court of Quarter sessions, now in session, was the Commonwealth against Walter Wrye. It appeared that Mr. Wrye, a school teacher of Taylor township, near Hannah Furnace, on the 8th of January, had occasion to use corporal punishment on Victor Bean, a 13-year-old son of Mrs. Mary Bean. The boy made a complaint to his mother, who in turn complained to the school directors, one of whom is Samuel Hoover. Mr. Hoover advised Mrs. Bean, if that were his son, he would prosecute the teacher. Mrs. Bean accepted Mr. Hoover's advice and had the teacher arrested and brought to court, and the complaint was disposed of in court this week. The jury acquitted the defendant and placed one-third of the costs on Mrs. Bean and two-thirds of the costs on Samuel Hoover, the school director, who advised her to prosecute th teacher. Mr. Hoover was utterly astounded at the outcome of the proceedings, and was very much chagrined that his friends from whom he expected sympathy, laughed and poked fun at him. It is hardly likely that he will have any gratuitous legal advice to dispose of in the future. If the law had have permitted, it would have been well to have placed half of the costs imposed upon Mr. Hoover, on the Justice of the Peace, who made the return. There have been several cases of a trifling character, which were brought into court during the past year, disposed of in a similar manner, and it seems to us, this should be a warning to others, that they had better settle their trifling disputes at home, instead of coming to court and taking the chances of having to pay costs.

BANK ROBBERY (?)

The Centre Banking Company' Supposed Danger.

On Thursday morning about 2 o'clock Harry Ryan, the son of Supt. Samuel Ryan, was on his way home and while coming down High street noticed a ladder standing against the Centre County Bank building. Thinking that robbers were making away with the bank's funds he immediately went home and acquainted his father with the facts of the case and together they started out to hunt a policeman. When they reached the bridge across Spring creek they met Officer Garis and told him about the supposed robbery. Garis relieved their fears by telling them that the ladder had been placed there by Joshua Folk the day before while repairing Col. Wilkinson's awning. It is too bad Supt. Ryan was roused out of bed when it was all a mistake, yet at the same time Harry deserves credit for being so thoughtful of other people's safety.

A Scandalous Attack.

Probably one of the most unjust and lowest attacks that have ever been made in this city was that made on Sunday and Monday on the streets. It was to the effect that Mrs. Anna Terry had arrived in Bellefonte on Saturday evening and was stopping at the Garman House.

This is without exceptions one of the meanest tricks and most scandalous reports that has ever been known in this community as it is a well known fact that Mrs. Terry died at Vassar, Mich., on Nov. 13, 1895. Proof of this is given in an article clipped from the Vassar, Mich., Pioneer which is as follows:

DEATH OR MRS. TERRY.

Mrs. Anna Terry, aged 31 years, died on Wednesday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Allen, on River street, from heart failure. Mrs. Terry's death is a result of about two years of sickness, and is particularly pathetic in view of the fact that some time ago she wrote to her parents here and expressed a wish to return to Vassar to die. Her husband accompanied her from their home in Bellefonte, Pa., to Detroit, where she was met by her father, who returned with her to Vassar last Saturday. Mrs. Terry leaves no children. Interment will be at Arbela cemetery to-morrow.

What the motive could be in circulating such a report we can not understand. Mr. Terry was seen by a representative of the REPUBLICAN this morning and strongly denied the report. He authorized the reporter to deny it and expressed himself to the effect that if the author of the report can be found out he will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

Concert and Dance,

On Monday evening Signor Bistolfi and his trio of skilled musicians gave their last concert in Bellefonte at the Arcade Hall. Quite a large crowd was present and to say that everybody was pleased is putting it mildly. Almost every selection was encored and responded to with willingness. Of the different selections rendered the "Passing Regiment," and Schubert's Serenade" were particularly pleasing and elicited loud applause. The performers then played from request of the audience. It is seldom that one comes across such willing performers.

After the conclusion of the concert dancing was commenced and for two hours the brilliantly lighted hall was a scene of animated beauty. Signor Bistolfi furnished for the dances some of the best music that has ever been heard in the Arcade Hall. The time was perfect and gave the best of satisfaction to everybody. While Signor Bistolfi made many friends in our city who were very sorry to see him go away. He and his associates are always welcome to Bellefonte and it is to be hoped that it will not be long before he returns.

EIGHT MEN ARRESTED.

Fined for Working on Sunday By 'Squire Keichline.

On Monday evening eight men were brought before 'Squire Keichline charged with violating the Blue laws of 1794. John R. Lemon, of near Gatesburg, appeared as prosecutor.

It seems that some time ago Wigton & Co., coal operators, leased a tract of land near Gatesburg for the purpose of working the land for ore. A mortgage for something like $3,000, was placed on the property. Ore washing machinery, etc., was erected and operations commenced. The mines were worked for some time but, it is reported, they did not pan out as wel as expected. The mortgage came due on Monday and on Saturday Wigton & Co., sent a force of men to the mine banks to remove the machinery and load it on cars. It was necessary to work all day Sunday in order to get all the machinery loaded. On Monday John R. Lemon came to Bellefonte and had warrants sworn out for Levi Garber, John Strayer, Rudolph Strayer, William Woodring, Martin Cowher, Grant Jones, Robert Patton and C. Spotts. They were arraigned before 'Squire Keichline on Monday evening charged with breaking the Sabbath. Fines were imposed upon them which together with the costs amounted to $60.10

George Breon Dead.

At exactly half-past twelve Monday morning the death angel claimed all that was mortal of George Breon, aged 78 years. The deceased was unconscious for three days prior to his death and passed away peacefully. The funeral was held on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the U. B. church. Revs. C. C. Miller and H. A. Grant had charge of the funeral services.

The deceased had for years made his home at the residence of his son-in-law Christian McGinley on St. Paul street and it was there that he died from old age. Every thing that was possible was done to make his last years happy. His every want was carefully look after by Mr. and Mrs. McGinley who sacrificed many pleasures to afford comfort for Mrs. McGinley's sick father.

Castoria is truly a marvelous thing for children. Doctors prescribe it, medical journals reccomend it and more than a million mothers are using it in place of Paregoric, Batemen's Drops, so-called soothing syrups and other narcotic and stupefying remedies. Castoria is the quickest thing to regulate the stomach and bowels and give healthy sleep the world has ever seen. It is pleasant to the taste and absolutely harmless. It relieves constipation, quiets pain, cures diarrhoea and wind colic allays feverishness, destorys worms, and preyents convulsions, sooths the child and gives it refreshing sleep. Union Ex-Prisoners Meet.

The Centre county association of union ex-prisoners of war met in the Greeg Post rooms on Saturday afternoon. The following resolution was adopted: "That we support the House Bill No. 306 and request that Pennsylvania United States Senators and Congressman Arnold from this district use their best efforts to pass said Bill." The bill in question is one to grant a pension of $12 to every ex-union prisoner of the war who was confined in Rebel prisons and that the sum of $2 per day be paid to each prisoner for every day thus imprisoned.

Another meeting will be held at the Post Rooms at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon. All union ex-prisoners of Centre county are urgently requested to attend this meeting whether they are members of the association or not.

Runaway Horse.

While out driving this afternoon Bruce Garman met with an accident which might have cost him his life. As it was he was pretty badly shaken up, besides sustaining some severe bruises. While driving along West High street his horse evidently scared at something and becoming unmanageable started to run away. Bruce was thrown out of the buggy and the horse continued on its mad career up to Water street where it turned the corner but after going about two squares fell down with the broken buggy in a heap upon its back. The horse was fortunately uninjured although the buggy and harness are a complete wreck.

Increasing Every Day.

Bellefonte shippers are up in arms.

This is the result of a month's efforts of the REPUBLICAN to convince the people of Bellefonte that it was the Central and Reading railroads that are helping our city by giving reasonable freight rates. That the people of this place are now convinced is very evident from the fact that every day the Central and Reading are getting new supporters. It has taken the shippers of this place some time to realize that it was to their interests to patronize the Central and Reading, but now they are wide awake and are loud in their denounciation of the treatment received from the Pennsylvania railroad. The general sentiment that naturally was aroused when the Central was first opened had commenced to die out to a certain degree but the REPUBLICAN has stirred it up again and now it i the sole question of discussion among shippers in this city. The articles published in these columns have been investigated and found to be correct and the result is that it is meaning a regular bonanza to the Central and Reading railroads. New shippers who never knew of the outrages practiced upon our citizens in high and unjust freight rates are joining the Central's forces. Everybody is joining this throng of conscientious and dutiful citizens and the Central is reaping the harvest. It is indeed a glorious triumph. The REPUBLICAN has vigorously maintained that the Central should receive the entire support of people of Bellefonte. After weeks of continuus urging, success is crowning our efforts. The REPUBLICAN from the start had the endorsement of the people of Bellefonte and with this encouragement it commenced its tirade on the Pennsylvania Railroad. The people of this city are just as happy over the result as we are. A little observation on Tuesday showed how shippers are looking at this matter. Inside of a half an hour no less than a dozen of Bellefonte merchants' teams droye directly past the P. R. R. freight station to the Central station and their deposited their large loads. Doesn't this look encouraging? If there are any who still are not supporters of the Central and Reading Railroads they had better come in out of the wet or they may regret it in the near future. Join the crowd of citizens who want what is reasonable. All roads lead to the Central. The Central connects with the Reading. The Reading goes almost all around the world Watch every shipment you make. See that is carefully marked VIA. THE CENTRAL AND READING.

Lively as a Cricket.

Although in the first instance as sluggish as a tortoise, the kidneys become as lively as a cricket when a healthful impulse is given to them with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a promoter of activity in these organs which counteracts a tendency to this lethargy and disease. Inaction of the kidneys, it should be remembered' is the first stage of those dangerous renal maladies against which the resources of medical science are too often exhausted in vain Heril is forestalled be the Bitters, which averts Bright's disease, diabetes, dropsy, gravel and the troubles arising from a weak bladder. Equally efficacious is it n checking and eradicating malarial, bilious and nervous ailments, dyspepsia, contipation and rheumatism. Appetite and sleep are improved and convelescence hastened by its beneficent action. Either when health is slightly or seriously impaired, the value of the restoritive and preventive medicine is speedily made manifest.
